Humphrey Asserts
Republicans Avoid
Recession Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) challenged Republican critics today to "quit beating the ADA and try to lick the recession."

He replied in this fashion to a Republican document calling Americans for Democratic Action the intellectual and political vanguard of a "third force" it described as "laundered communism in white tie and tails."

The 68-page pamphlet, drafted by the staff of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said, "ADA socialism takes the improvised socialism of the New Deal and attempts to organize it into a body of doctrine."

"But beneath the uplift lingo and the self-righteous accents, the doctrine is socialism still — slow and deliberate social and economic paralysis; the chloroform of hope, pride, enterprise, self-respect, initiative, spontaneity, and individual liberty of thought and action."

The ADA describes itself as an independent political organization opposed to communism and other forms of totalitarianism. It espouses the principles of the New Deal and Fair Deal.

Robert R. Nathan, ADA national chairman, called the Republican criticism "the same old tired and discredited sneers which the right wing of the GOP uses in default of any positive or constructive program."

Humphrey was one of six senators named in the pamphlet as ADA members. The others were Senators Douglas (D-Ill.), Clark (D-Pa.), Morse (D-Ore.), Neuberger (D-Ore.) and Murray (D-Mont.).

The pamphlet was put out with the notation that "neither the members of the Republican Policy Committee nor other Republican senators are responsible for the statements herein contained, except such as they are willing to endorse and make their own."

Violent Deaths
In Texas Areas
Take 30 Lives

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A wave of violent deaths in the past five days has taken the lives of 30 Texas youngsters, a tabulation showed today.

Ages of the victims ranged from teen-agers down to 3 months. Latest deaths occurred yesterday when four children died in a traffic accident near Baytown.

Five died when hit by a train on a trestle at San Antonio Sunday. Four teen-agers were killed near Dallas Thursday in a collision resulting from a race.

Six died in fires, three suffocated, two drowned; one each died in a fall from a horse, a suicide and a tractor accident; slayings took one life each; traffic accidents caused two other deaths.

Friend Of Mencken
Was Ill Long Time
At New York Hotel

NEW YORK (AP) — George Jean Nathan, sharp-tongued dean of Broadway drama critics for many years and sidekick of the late H. L. Mencken, died today at 76.

With him at the end was the wife he married when he was 73 and she was 45.

Nathan, who was an author and an editor of the American Mercury and other magazines, had been ailing in recent years. The cause of death was not immediately announced.

He died in his room at the Royalton Hotel, on the fringe of the Broadway theatrical district. He had lived in the room for 34 years and at the hotel for 54.

Nathan's reviews were widely credited with a profound effect in improving the American theater. He was the author of two score books, most of them devoted to the theater, and wrote several plays.

He was co-editor with Mencken of the Smart Set magazine. In 1924 they founded the American Mercury magazine, a sounding board for their social criticism, which often was not sweet.

Nathan drew many stares because of his collections of walking sticks and overcoats, the latter including a dandy made of Russian wolfskin. Of this garment, an actor once remarked that Nathan had trained it to bark and bite.

He was born in Port Wayne, Ind., Feb. 14, 1882. His parents moved from Port Wayne to Cleveland when George was 4.

Nathan was educated at Cornell University and the University of Bologna, Italy.

Nathan, who had been a confirmed bachelor, was married in 1955 to spinster actress Julie Hayden. The ceremony was performed aboard a cruise ship at sea. Nathan once described his bride as one of his two "dream girls." The other was actress Lillian Gish.

Floods Cause
High Losses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California, basking in its second day of sunshine, began counting up the cost today of 12 straight days of rain.

Brig. Gen. William F. Cassidy, the Army's district engineer, estimated that floods within his jurisdiction caused 20 million dollars damage in the past two months. That did not include damage to homes, businesses and roads.

The flood danger was not completely over, but forecasters did not see another storm for at least five days. That should give the soggy soil a chance to dry.

Government Shows
Jobs Also Boosted
In Outdoor Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today unemployment rose by 25,000 in March. This took the total to 5,198,000 — the highest in 16½ years.

The regular monthly report of the Commerce and Labor departments also showed a 323,000 rise in employment for March, taking the total of those at work to 62,311,000.

The report explained the increase in both employment and unemployment as resulting from seasonal increases in outdoor work. There were, on the other hand, further cutbacks in the manufacturing employment.

With the opening of outdoor work opportunities, additional people come into the labor force.

Highest Since 1941
The March unemployment tally is the highest since the 5,620,000 recorded in August 1941.

Although the detailed Commerce Labor estimates showed a 25,000 jobless increase in March, Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell spoke of it in a news release as being unchanged from February.

This was because the 25,000 increase is within the margin of error conceded by the government as possible in its calculations.

The rise in unemployment is contraseasonal. Normally there is a moderate drop in the jobless total at this time of the year, usually about 200,000.

The 5,198,000 jobless tally for March is 2,316,000 over the 2,882,000 total in March 1957. The March employment total of 62,311,000 is 1,554,000 less than the March 1957 employment total of 63,865,000.

The proportion of the unemployed to the total labor force rose in March from 6.7 to 7 per cent.

Most In Manufacturing
Taken as a whole, the government report indicates that the climb in unemployment almost came to a stop in mid-March but that the country still has well over five million unemployed. The hard core of the idle is concentrated in

North Winds
Invade Dixie

By The Associated Press
There were wet spots in the Northeast and wide areas of the West, but generally dry weather prevailed in most other parts of the country today.

Northerly winds fanned cool air deep into the South and it was fairly cool in most areas east of the Mississippi River.

Skies cleared over most sections east of the Mississippi except along the northeast coast from Maine southward through Virginia and westward through the lower Great Lakes region. The showers and snow flurries, however, were expected to taper off during the day.

Friendly Bear
Needs Home But Seems Unwanted

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — A friendly, 500-pound bear needs a home. If one can't be found, the animal will have to be destroyed, says game protector Marvin Nungesser. So far, no takers, not even the Columbus Zoo.

The bear, who appears to have a pleasant personality, has been hanging around Cash Cave Park about 15 miles southwest of here. He has been there at least since last Thursday when first spotted.

Nungesser believes the animal probably was once a pet—it has chain marks around its neck—but grew too big for the owner to keep.

Dr. Fouracre, in an interview, gave this rough breakdown of the 3½ to 4 million exceptional children:

Those who can be trained but not educated, 1 per cent; those who are mentally retarded but who may be educated to a degree, 2 per cent; the gifted, or exceptionally bright, 2 per cent; crippled, 1 to 1½ per cent; partially or completely blind, 1 per cent; partially or completely deaf, 1 per cent; those with speech defects, about 2 per cent; and the emotionally disturbed, 1 per cent.

CBS Has Emergency
TV Workers' Strike
Fouls Up Programs

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System was on an emergency basis today. The network attempted to maintain its television schedule despite a strike of 1,300 technicians.

The cameramen, engineers and other members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers walked out yesterday in New York City; Hartford, Conn.; Chicago; Hollywood, San Francisco; Boston, St. Louis; and Milwaukee in a contract dispute.

The effect on the CBS television schedule was immediate. Film programs were substituted for As the World Turns, Art Linkletter's House Party and the live version of Beat the Clock.

Last night, Studio One in Hollywood canceled a live play, and a film of a previous Red Skelton show was scheduled for tonight.

The network called on supervisory and other nonunion personnel to man cameras and take over other technical work. In this way many live shows were kept on the air.

During the first few hours operations were hardly flawless. There were misplaced commercials and dead air at times.

A later live program was termed flawless by a CBS spokesman.

The CBS radio network, also hit by the strike, said it was maintaining its regular program schedule.

Picket lines were set up at CBS installations all over Manhattan. William C. Fitts Jr., CBS vice president for labor relations, said CBS has put in operation an "emergency plan" and that every effort will be made to carry as much of the regular program schedule as possible.

The strike followed failure of contract negotiations in Washington.

Iran's Ex-Queen
Will Visit U. S.
For Three Weeks

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Ex-Queen Soraya is sailing for the United States April 14 for a three-week stay.

The 26-year-old beauty, divorced by the Shah of Iran recently because she had not produced a child in seven years of marriage, has reservations with her mother and younger brother Bijan on the Constitution from Genoa. They are booked to sail back from New York May 13.

Soraya has been living in Cologne with her father Khalil Esfandiary, the Iranian ambassador to West Germany. Soraya's mother is German-born.

Informants said the ex-Queen's brother would enroll at the University of Colorado.

Khrushchev
Letter Held
'Repetitive'

Cites Soviet Move
For Ending Tests
'Appears Peculiar'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower again urged Russia today to join in stopping manufacture of nuclear materials for war purposes, and in an attempt to bring about "a dependable and agreed disarmament program."

He made his proposal in a letter delivered in Moscow to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. It was a reply to a letter from Khrushchev's own letter of April 4. In that communication the Soviet Premier proposed that the United States and Britain renounce nuclear tests, a move the Russians say they have made.

Eisenhower told Khrushchev the Soviet communication was largely repetitive.

"Raises Questions"
"The timing, wording, and manner of the Soviet declaration cannot but raise questions as to its real significance," he added.

The Khrushchev letter said the Soviet Union would have to reconsider its announced suspension of nuclear testing unless the United States and Great Britain follow suit.

Eisenhower told the Communist leader it seems peculiar that the Soviet Union, having just concluded a series of tests of unprecedented intensity, "should now, in bold headlines, say that it will not test again; but add, in small type, that it may test again if the United States carries out its long-announced and now imminent series of tests."

There was no hint that the United States is prepared to abandon these tests, for which preliminary work is now under way at Eniwetok in the Pacific.

But Eisenhower said the position of this country on testing is well-known—that for several years the United States has been seeking a dependable way of ending the accumulation of nuclear weapon stockpiles.

Soviet Rejected Plan
This, he said, was his atom-for-peace proposal of 1953, and the Soviet Union has persistently rejected it.

Addressing his letter to Khrushchev as chairman of the Soviet Council of Ministers, Eisenhower wrote: "Mr. Chairman, now that you have become head of the Soviet government, will you not reconsider your government's position and accept my proposal that fissionable materials henceforth be manufactured only for peaceful purposes."

"If the Soviet Union is as peace-loving as it professes, surely it would want to bring about an internationally supervised diversion of fissionable material from weapons purposes to peace purposes."

Russian Sailors
Invade Port But
Shun Red Shirts

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Nearly 1,000 Russians invaded Wellington today from the Soviet whaling fleet on its way home from the antarctic.

The visitors swarmed into shops to buy nylon and woolen clothes, patent medicines and toiletries. The men's taste ran heavily to blue. One haberdasher who had arranged a special window display of red shirts remarked ruefully, "They just won't buy red."

Nor was the visit a boon to one business which usually profits more than most from visiting seamen. Not a single Russian was seen in a bar.

Polluted Air Given
Main Cancer Blame

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lung cancer is the product of several factors operating together, and cigarette smoking is only one of these, says a widely known smog researcher.

Polluted air is the dominant factor but there are things other than cancer agents in the atmosphere which play a part. An American population also is part-cancer more often than nonsmokers.

"If cigarettes were abolished, there would be a reduction in the number of deaths from lung cancer but this reduction would be a very minor one so far as the whole population is concerned," Dr. Paul Kotin told science writers on a tour sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Kotin is a pathologist at the University of Southern California and has long been associated with smog research.

The smog expert said he did not disagree with surveys by the cancer society and others showing that cigarette users develop lung cancer more often than nonsmokers.

He asserted, however, that less than 10 per cent of the two-pack-a-day smokers get lung cancer, and that no matter how many cigarettes they use they do not die any earlier than light smokers.

Battleship Era
End Gives Navy
Plenty Of Scrap

WASHINGTON (AP) — The end of the battleship era found the Navy with 45,000 tons of high-grade steel armor plate on hand.

Most of this nickel-alloyed steel, carried on the books at 25 million dollars, now will be sold as scrap.

A House Appropriations subcommittee heard about the steel during closed sessions last month and made the record public yesterday.

The Navy decommissioned its last battleship, USS Wisconsin, early this year.

Felon Goes To Hospital After Scrap Iron Binge

CHESTER, Ill. — William Hinkle, nicknamed "Scrap Iron" when he entered Menard State Prison last year with the keys to a county jail in his stomach, was recovering today after another scrap iron binge.

The 25-year-old convict was in a prison hospital bed. Warden Ross Randolph had in his possession an assortment of sheet metal and various other objects. Hinkle had swallowed the keys to the Williamson County jail after he was arrested last year in Marion, Ill., on the forgery charge. He has four more years to serve in Menard.

Hinkle, who is serving a term for forgery, had complained last week of pains in his stomach. X-rays showed nails, paper clips, an assortment of sheet metal and various other objects. "He'll never digest this mess," said Dr. Donald Wham, prison surgeon. "We'll have to operate."

On previous occasions when Hinkle had been brought to him, the physician had treated him without surgery.

The surgeon removed 30 roofing nails, 15 paper clips, the tops of 3 tobacco tin cans, a finger nail, a clipper and a pencil.

"Hinkle has been bucking for a long time to bring out the blossoms—the psycho ward where he would not have to work," Randolph said. "I thought he was faking his appetite for iron. But I'm a reasonable man and this convinces me. It's the mental section for him when he's ready to leave the hospital."

Stompanato's Mother Says Name Of Son 'Slandered'

WOODSTOCK, Ill. — The mother of slain John Stompanato said last night, "It is terrible the way my son's name is being slandered."

"They are saying some things that couldn't be possible," Mrs. John Stompanato told a newsman. "I don't think everything has been written down. I don't believe the real truth is known."

Stompanato, boyfriend of Hollywood actress Lana Turner, was stabbed to death Saturday in Miss Turner's bedroom by Cheryl Crane, 14-year-old daughter of Miss Turner.

Mrs. Stompanato said she knew of details in the stabbing only from newspaper accounts, then added that letters from her son never mentioned any difficulties with Miss Turner.

Commenting on news that Cheryl Crane will face a formal hearing April 24, Mrs. Stompanato said:

"There should be an investigation made. My son should have a defense. Any coldblooded murder should be investigated. I don't believe there is such a thing as justifiable homicide."

She said she is not vindictive toward the young girl, but added she is more interested in having the true picture of her son made public.

Young Mother Arrested For Slaying Husband

MOBILE, Ala. — An attractive young mother was booked today on a murder charge in the shotgun slaying of her husband.

Officers quoted Mrs. Virginia Lott, 27, as saying she shot her husband, Orban, at their home in Citronelle after he beat her elderly mother, Lott, 31-year-old power company lineman, died of a head wound.

LOS ANGELES — The ketch Golden Rule is halfway to Hawaii, en route to Eniwetok to protest the forthcoming U. S. nuclear bomb tests.

A friend in Los Angeles talked by radio-telephone with Albert Bigelow aboard the ketch today.

Relief Rolls Increase In Illinois To Record

CHICAGO — Public aid officials estimated today the number of persons in Illinois receiving all forms of relief during April will set a 15-year record.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission estimated the total recipients at 334,275. If the estimate is realized, officials said, it would be the largest relief load since the February 1943 figure of 362,798.

manufacturing industries where unemployment is still increasing.

The report also means that while increasing springtime outdoor work has curbed the over-all rise in unemployment, it has not brought down the unemployment total as normally expected in March.

Both the employment and unemployment totals are estimates, based on the Census Bureau's monthly sampling of 35,000 households. These data are projected into estimated figures for the nation as a whole.

WASHINGTON — Magazine writer Henry Fowles Pringle, 60, who won the Pulitzer prize for biography in 1931, died last night at Washington Hospital Center after an illness of several weeks.

Bomb Fallout Seen High In Pacific Area

TOKYO — A Japanese scientist said today almost all the western half of the north Pacific has been contaminated by radioactive fallout from the big U.S. H-bomb blast at Bikini in 1954.

Speaking for a three-scientist team, Prof. Yasuo Miyake of Tokyo's University of Education told the Japan Oceanography Society it was estimated waters in the area west of Hawaii to Japan show a level of man-made radioactive contamination about 10 times that of the Atlantic.

Miyake claimed the radioactivity is showing no sign of decreasing with the passage of time. He said the contaminated waters reach Japan a year after American nuclear weapon tests are conducted at Bikini Atoll.

Miyake and two other scientists — Miss Katsuko Saruhashi of the Weather Research Institute and Kazuhisa Kamada of the Atomic Research Institute — conducted an exhaustive survey of radiation distribution in Pacific waters resulting from the 1954 blasts.

Miyake said their report is based on findings of a Japanese observation mission in 1954, surveys by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in 1955 and results of a joint Japan-U.S.-Canada study on north Pacific waters the same year.

Truman Due As Witness

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman was named today as the leadoff witness when the House Banking and Currency Committee opens a five-week hearing next Monday on unemployment.

Committee Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) said Truman's "counsel" will be particularly helpful in view of the indecision being manifested by the present administration.

In addition to Truman, 10 governors, mayors of five major cities, and top figures in industry and labor are scheduled to testify at the hearings running from April 14 through May 16.

Former Nurse Asserts Cheryl 'Darling Girl'

EDINBURGH, Scotland — A former nurse of Lana Turner's daughter Cheryl Crane described her today as "a darling little girl who could never tell a lie — and very religious too."

Gray-haired Mrs. Molly McMurray said she had hardly been able to eat or sleep since she read that Cheryl stabbed John Stompanato to death Saturday.

MINNEAPOLIS — Dr. Robert B. Withrow, 34, nationally known botanist, died early today after a heart attack which struck as he finished a lecture at University of Minnesota last night.

Lana's Daughter Held For Court Hearing

HOLLYWOOD — As Lana Turner sobbed quietly, a judge presiding jurist of the Juvenile Court, said that he believed it would be best for Cheryl if she were removed from all outside influences.

Cheryl then was returned to Juvenile Hall, where she has been held since Stompanato, her mother's romantic interest for the past year, met death Friday night in the actress' pink-carpeted bedroom. The second of Lana's four-room.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

No Slaves Either

EMOTIONS ARE running high in the argument over a nuclear test ban. When that is so, the argument tends to become muddled. Surely it has in this case. Obviously there is sufficient responsible scientific opinion convinced of the dangers of fallout to suggest that continued testing represents a risk to future generations and even to the present. What seems to be lost sight of is that there is also a risk in not testing. What our leaders and those in Britain and other free lands must do is balance one risk against the other. And they must take this measure not once, but again and again. Those who favor the ban find themselves terribly impatient with those who say we must go on testing. They talk of the latter's "obsession" with the idea of nuclear defense for the free world.

THIS IMPLIES one of two things. Either they envision some other way in which the West can defend itself, or they believe the Russians could be trusted to leave free nations alone if they lacked an adequate defense. This is the risk in not testing. We do not yet have effective nuclear warheads for long-range missiles, nor do we have nuclear antimissile missiles. Do the Russians? We do not know. But after their recent long series of tests, it is conceivable they may have. If they do, and can prove it, then they have an advantage they might employ either in a hot war or the blackmail of a cold war. Go beyond testing to the matter of nuclear disarmament. Even we say we would be interested in enforceable nuclear disarmament. But we surely know that here, too, the risk would be grave. Is there any doubt in anyone's mind as to Russia's superiority in the field of conventional arms? With nuclear weapons out of the picture, this margin, once again, could be decisive in the East-West struggle.

THE PROPONENTS of continued testing are sometimes portrayed as callous to humanity's peril from fallout. Perhaps some do think of it as a distant and minor danger. But others, recognizing the risk, still feel it is outbalanced by the threat of Soviet conquest. It is fair to ask that those who favor a test ban also take full cognizance of this offsetting menace. Saying they do is not enough. We must have from them solid, workable proposals for the protection of free mankind in a world they envision without nuclear tests and perhaps without nuclear arms in our arsenals. No sane man questions that humanity's health must be guarded. But so indeed must its precious freedom of soul. We do not want a world in which millions may get bone cancer. But neither do we want a world in which millions of once-free men are the healthy slaves of tyranny.

Long-Play Variety

A LEADING American record company has released a two-disk recording of Robert Schumann's musical setting of Lord Byron's poem, "Mandfred." Concertgoers will recognize the overture, which has been a staple of the concert hall for many years. But only a small percentage of even the musically initiated could have heard this work in its entirety prior to the pressing of these two records. The work is not considered to have much to say to our period, nor is it regarded as top-flight Schumann. But that is not the point. The remarkable thing is that through the medium of long-play records the listening public is being offered the opportunity to hear a variety of music never before available even to king or emperor. The LP record has its 10th anniversary for March shows 9,981 listings of classical music alone! This music was written by 718 composers covering the whole history of music. In no other art form is the product of the artists so accessible, not only to the wealthy but to almost any family that really wants fine music in the home.

A NEW HOTEL in Philadelphia will have its own television network with special entertainment and guest service features. To make it as home-like as possible, there will also be commercials.

Russ Power Increase Gives U. S. Concern

Editor's Note: This is another in the "Statesmen's Series" of columns being written by distinguished persons in the government, national affairs, business and the military for Thomas L. Stokes, who is seriously ill.

WASHINGTON—Soviet advances in the field of hydroelectric power are not nearly so spectacular as their Sputniks. But, in the long run, the hydro advances may be equally as important.

This is because it is the avowed goal of the Kremlin to overtake the United States industrially within 15 years.

The Kremlin cannot achieve that goal without broadening its economic base. Electric power is one of the keystones of industrial expansion. The Soviets know this—and they are acting accordingly.

While our own Federal multipurpose dam program has been broken to almost a dead halt during five years under this Administration, the Soviets have been stepping on the gas pedal.

"RIGHT NOW," the Senate Interior Committee was told recently by Major General E. C. Itchner, chief of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, "Soviet hydroelectric development appears to be roughly equal to ours in amount. However, their rate of increase is greater than ours... the construction program appears to have gathered a momentum which has not yet reached a peak."

For example, he pointed out, the Soviets now have under construction or in the advanced planning stage 10 separate dams larger than our own Grand Coulee!

One of the Soviet dams, ac-ording to Army Intelligence reports presented by General Itchner, will have six million kilowatts. This is three times the generating capacity of Grand Coulee Dam! It is greater by itself than the 5.25 million kilowatts capacity of all the dams built by the Corps of Engineers.

"JUST FIVE Siberian plants," General Itchner also testified, "will have a combined capacity half again as great as the total hydro capacity of all Federal projects in the United States, taking the Corps of Engineers, the Bureau of Reclamation and TVA together."

I do not find it hard to believe these reports, for with my own eyes I have seen some of the Soviet accomplishments in this field. A year and a half ago when I toured the Soviet Union I inspected a dam at Stalingrad on the Volga River which, when completed soon, will have 2.3 million kilowatts of generating power compared to Grand Coulee's 1.9 million.

Significantly, the Russians with whom I talked were not overly boastful about this dam—they were looking forward to bigger things.

AT MY request, the Library of Congress recently completed a research paper on Soviet hydroelectric developments, based on Soviet documents. The library's report indicated that four per cent of the Soviet Union's new capital investment is going into river development.

In 1956, the library reported, the net addition to installed capacity was about 40 per cent of the total hydro power capacity in the U.S.S.R. at the beginning of the same year. The report added:

"A still higher rate of expansion is projected for the next three years immediately ahead." The Soviet Union understands the meaning of comprehensive river development, too. Reclamation, irrigation and navigation go hand in hand with power development.

Likewise, new industrial complexes are being built around the new Siberian dams which are close to the source of raw materials. And a national transmission grid is being built to bring electricity generated at remote hydro sites to industrial centers.

THIS IS ONLY a partial picture of what the Soviet Union is doing in its effort to make good the boast that it will overtake the U. S. industrially by the mid-1970s.

It should give all Americans cause to pause and reconsider national policy that has refused to recognize the need for Federal development of our power potential.

Our economy is in a different state of development from the Soviet Union's. Perhaps we need not give the same emphasis to hydroelectric development as it does. This does not mean we can continue to sit on our hands.

We have an immediate and additional need for Federal projects to reverse a growing unemployment trend. But, even more important, in the long run we need more power, more reclamation, more irrigation, and more navigational projects. We must keep adding to our own economic base so that the Soviet boast of industrial supremacy will never come true.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—When your telephone rings at 4 o'clock in the morning, don't be frightened. It may be California calling with a joke. It often is, at our house, and the caller is usually Herb Stein, a profigate user of the instrument who never wastes an air-mail stamp when a $7 long-distance call will do as well. This time it was 4:03 a.m., and the shrill bell of the telephone brought me up out of the last 43 pages of "The Underground City."

"Never mind improving your information," said Mr. Stein with scorn of literary pursuits. "I have a joke and it could not wait. Ready?"

"MR. AND MRS. Joshua Ingels, here in California, had both been aware for some time that Mr. Ingels was not well. His appetite was poor, his circulation sluggish and he endured occasional spells of faintness. It was she who put her foot down, at last. She said: 'Josh, this is silly. You can't just close your eyes to illness. It could be serious. This afternoon we are going to see Dr. Bowen.'"

"Some women are like that. They say a thing and that's how it turns out. They rule the house. So at 3 o'clock that afternoon they were in Dr. Bowen's office and he asked them into his consultation room."

"He talked to them at length about Mr. Ingels's symptoms and then asked her to go back to the waiting room while he examined Mr. Ingels. Half an hour later, a grave look on his face, Dr. Bowen asked Mrs. Ingels to come back in. She did and sat, with some apprehension."

"NOW," SAID Dr. Bowen, "I do not believe in deceiving a patient. Your husband is seriously ill, most seriously. He has not only a rare and difficult condition, but it requires an immediate and complex operation. Only one man in the country does this surgery and he hasn't done it too often, but I think I should speak with him. Now. Not tomorrow or next week. All right?"

"The Ingels looked at each other, as married couples do, and together said: 'Of course, Doctor. We are in your hands.'"

So Bowen called Dr. Hamilton at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore and swiftly, concisely, told him of Ingels and his condition. Dr. Hamilton said of course he would operate, just as soon as the Ingels could fly to Baltimore.

"A thought occurs to me," said Dr. Hamilton. "There is a large medical-surgical meeting in Baltimore two days hence and if the patient will consent to being operated on while on closed-circuit TV which the doctors can observe, I will do the operation without fee."

"THE INGELS consented at once, went back home to pack, booked two tickets by air for Baltimore and the next evening were there, going straight to Johns Hopkins. Mr. Ingels was prepared at once and surgery was scheduled for 8 a.m., the next day. Mrs. Ingels was told that, if she wished, she could sit in the room with the doctors and surgeons and observe the operation on TV, too. She said she thought she'd like to do that—and did."

"NOW, THE operation had been in progress about 30 minutes, with all present glued to the TV receivers beamed on the operating room. At that moment the doctors and Mrs. Ingels noticed that the breathing bag alongside the anesthetist was not pulsing steadily and there was tension at the operating table. "There was immediate suspense but, in a few seconds, it began pulsing again. But it only lasted a short while. Suddenly the bag collapsed limply and remained collapsed."

"Mrs. Ingels, taut, noticed that the surgeons were putting down their instruments and leaving the table. In a moment she saw Dr. Hamilton slowly walk across the operating room to the main monitor camera and when he got there he seemed to look directly at her."

"Mrs. Ingels," he said, "I'm sorry to have to tell you that we have just lost your husband."

"Well," said Mrs. Ingels, "that's show business."

"Thought you'd like to hear it," said Mr. Stein, and hung up. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Stay Home And Keep Still

WASHINGTON — There's no joy in front of the color television sets in the homes of the Federal communications commissioners today.

These gents aren't enjoying their miniature transistor radios. They're not even jotting down notes for speeches to be made later this month for pay before the National Radio and Television Association convention in San Francisco. This time the commissioners won't be in California.

Nobody in the radio business dares now to offer them honorariums, free hotel rooms, meals and drinks for themselves and sometimes their wives. If such an offer were made, the commissioners wouldn't accept such hospitality.

WHAT BROUGHT about this sudden wave of purity was an 18-page pamphlet in which the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight denounced them all for accepting gifts from the industry they're supposed to regulate, for charging $100 to make a speech, and for collecting twice for their expenses on such trips.

This book, as issued by Representative Oren Harris the chairman, wasn't completely fair. Among the seven commissioners are two men who haven't done any small-time chiseling. One of these is Commissioner T.A.M. Craven, who wouldn't take a free color TV, who never yet has charged for making a speech, and who collects once for his traveling expenses.

THE OTHER is the new man appointed a few days back to replace Commissioner Richard A. Mack, who resigned after admitting accepting loans from a Florida lawyer who sought and got his vote in support of giving Miami TV Channel 10 to the National Airlines. The new commissioner says he doesn't know much about regulating TV and radio yet, but he guarantees he's honest.

The five remaining commissioners are the ones who aren't enjoying free color TV. Harris said the Justice Department was investigating them, that his committee still wasn't through with them, and that some of their doings were highly improper.

HARRIS wouldn't say whether he thought they'd fractured the law, or even whether he believed they should be fired. For one thing, the law seems vague.

Once the Comptroller General said it was strictly illegal for bureaucrats to charge the government $12 a day for expenses when these already were being paid by somebody else. Another time he said such a double pay deal under certain conditions was legal. The Congressmen suggested to the controller that he make up his mind.

The honorarium business was something else. Congress some years ago passed a law whereby it allowed Federal workers to accept fees for preparing papers for publication or even for reading aloud. The lawgivers had in mind scientists publishing their work in scientific journals or describing them before their peers.

SOME OF THE Federal communications bosses decided this included them. So they got in the habit of collecting a little cash, usually $100, almost every time they made a talk before the men whose business they were supposed to regulate.

Commissioner Rosel H. Hyde never charged for his oratory, but he did accept free hotel rooms. Most of the others talked freely about the favors they accepted; not one could see where he'd done anything wrong.

THE SOLONS said the commissioners better stay home more and go easy on the speechifying. They urged that Congress repeal the honorarium law, that it pass a law making it possible to fire a commissioner for cause, and that the commissioners draw up a code of ethics for themselves.

Harris promised we'd be hearing more about the communications commission — probably much more.

Doctor. We are in your hands." So Bowen called Dr. Hamilton at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore and swiftly, concisely, told him of Ingels and his condition. Dr. Hamilton said of course he would operate, just as soon as the Ingels could fly to Baltimore.

"A thought occurs to me," said Dr. Hamilton. "There is a large medical-surgical meeting in Baltimore two days hence and if the patient will consent to being operated on while on closed-circuit TV which the doctors can observe, I will do the operation without fee."

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — A woman who operates a 100-million-dollar-a-year business gave this success tip today to aspiring young secretaries:

"Don't concentrate on marrying the son of the boss. Instead learn the job of the boss."

Blue-eyed Miss Catherine L. O'Brien, a pleasantly stout and cheerful woman, followed her own advice.

One of seven children of an Irish electrician, she went to work at seventeen. In 1931, she quit a good-paying job as secretary for an insurance firm to help the late Frank Stanley Beveridge found the Stanley Products Co. in Westfield, Mass.

"I had to learn the boss' business, because I had to learn everything," recalled Miss O'Brien. "In addition to typing letters, I learned to do the buying, keep the books, help supervise manufacture and distribution."

"I even put the handles in the brushes we sold, and packed the orders."

RUNG BY RUNG she climbed the ladder. In 1951 she became president of the firm. With the help of only one vice president, a man, Miss O'Brien now directs some 4,000 employees and 25,000 dealers. She is also a director for three banks, is active in several philanthropic organizations. Her annual income from salary and investments is more than $100,000.

Never a "yes woman" herself, Miss O'Brien doesn't believe in surrounding herself with "yes men." But she has little trouble dealing with her own male executives, and explained with a smile: "I'm in a fortunate position. I hired most of them myself over the years."

HERE ARE SOME of her thoughts on women in industry:

"It is definitely harder for a woman to get ahead in business than for a man. Any woman who wants to get ahead must realize and accept this, and go on from there."

"In dealing with men a woman should never be domineering. Men are dominated by women all their lives — by mothers, teachers, wives. They think women are always carping."

"Give them praise instead. They blossom with appreciation. A word of praise can often get you over a tight situation faster than all the logic of Aristotle."

"For heaven's sake, wear comfortable shoes. Many women have lost golden opportunities because of an unfortunate remark, or a chilling display of temper, caused by her aching feet."

What causes most women to fail to achieve success?

"Unwillingness to pay the price," said Miss O'Brien firmly. "The price of success for a woman is loneliness. If she isn't willing to make her job her life, she should give up the idea of that kind of success."

"To have helped build something, to see it grow, is like having a child. In a way it is even closer to you than a child."

For one thing, it doesn't go away and leave you.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — The meaningless proposal of the Russians to end nuclear bomb tests — which they can break the minute they have anything ready for testing — is being hailed as a tremendous Soviet propaganda victory. But why do we need to take it so seriously? If meaningless proposals are to be the new pattern for the cold war, why can't we counter with some empty offers of our own?

The Russians are masters of timing, so why don't we become a little topical ourselves? This latest Big Gesture costs the Soviet nothing. It's like swearing off April Fool Jokes on April 2.

As a propaganda gesture we might offer to end all missile launches until we have another ready to go up. And we could propose a mutual compact to the Russians that all rockets shot at the moon be equipped with rubber noses so no unsightly scars would be inflicted on our lunar satellite.

We might achieve a stunning propaganda victory by denouncing dictatorships. We could come out uncompromisingly against the regimes of Perez Jimenez in Venezuela and Juan Peron in Argentina. We might offer to restore political autonomy to our satellites, such as Arkansas, and agree to a re-uniting of East and West St. Louis.

We might induce our NATO friends to follow suit. As a means of easing tensions between East and West we might persuade France to renounce all claims to New Orleans, and the British to retrocede Georgetown.

Any time we find it expedient to breach these compacts we can do just what the Russians are palpably planning to do to us. We can accuse the other contracting party of failure to "adhere."

SENATOR John F. Kennedy, of Massachusetts, had a busy day the other day. About 3 p. m., after taking his turn interrogating a witness before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee, he remembered he had forgotten lunch. He was afraid he'd miss another turn if he left the hearing room, so he dispatched an aide for a trayful of victuals.

The cameramen evinced great interest in the mobile luncheon. Senator Kennedy didn't care to wolf his lunch before a battery of cameras, so he picked up the tray and carried it into the phone booth placarded, "Committee Business Only."

The photos converged on the booth, but obtained no pictures of the hungry scene.

The minute he saw a lens pointing at him, Kennedy stopped eating.

JUST INSIDE the door of the House Restaurant is a large table, which seats a dozen or more. It is known as the "Republican Round Table." There, on no days, may be seen the Congressional power-houses of the GOP. Minority Leader Joe Martin, Minority Whip Les Arends, New Yorker Ken Keating — plotting how to undo the Democrats.

The other day, Rep. Frank W. Boykin, of Alabama, had as his luncheon guest Dr. Billy Graham. Boykin, a shouting Democrat, ushered the evangelist into the restaurant. Dr. Graham saw a couple of empty places at the Republican Round Table and seated himself there before his Democratic host could halt him.

In a voice that could be heard all over the premises, Rep. Boykin bellowed at the startled spiritual leader:

"We'll go to hell sitting there!"

Billy Graham shot to his feet and moved to another table.

U. S. Exports To Japan Doubles Imports

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — U. S. imports from Japan rose nearly 10 per cent in value last year, from $48 to $60 million dollars. But at the same time, U. S. exports to Japan rose by nearly 40 per cent, from $76 to $1.221 million dollars.

These news figures have just been compiled from Department of Commerce records. They show that U. S. exports to Japan are double U. S. imports from Japan.

This puts into more accurate perspective some of the pressure now being exerted in Washington to curb U. S. imports from Japan. It is part of the larger movement to block renewal of the reciprocal trade agreements act now before Congress.

Among principal imports from Japan which enter into competition with American products are tuna fish, cotton goods, plywood, sewing machines, pottery and clay products, toys and athletic goods.

THREE other made-in-Japan import lines which are increasing in volume and becoming a new competitive threat to American manufacturers are radio and electronic apparatus, photographic equipment and scientific instruments.

This is how the principal classifications of U. S. imports from Japan have grown, 1956 to 1957. All figures are in rounded millions of dollars valuations.

From a tariff-making point of view, there are a number of interesting developments shown by this tabulation.

	1956	1957
Fish and fish products	45	48
Cotton manufactures	81	85
Wool manufactures	30	34
Silk manufactures	62	61
Wood products	46	58
Pottery and clay products	24	27
Toys and athletic goods	23	27
Metals and metal products	71	78
Sewing machines and parts	13	19
Scientific instruments	7	9
Photographic equipment	4	8
Radio and parts	2	3
Electrical lighters and parts	3	4
Natural pearls	3	9

Every item increased except two—cotton goods and silk. The 20-million drop in cotton imports was caused primarily by Japanese export quotas, self-imposed, to reduce opposition from competing U. S. textile mills.

SILK USED to be the big U. S. import from Japan, but that market has been destroyed by synthetics. Japan makes synthetics, too, but sells them in other markets. Japanese wool products are made principally from Australian wool.

Japanese plywood — up 10 million dollars to a 44-million-dollar import valuation last year — is made principally from mahogany woods imported from the Philippines.

Japanese metal products are made principally from Indian and Malayan ores, with heavy imports of U. S. scrap. Japan produces her own aluminum. An important new import is Japanese titanium, valued at 16 million dollars in 1957, up seven million dollars over 1956.

McKeldin Urges State Park Developed Along Length Of Big Gunpowder River

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. McKeldin today urged development of a state park along the entire length of the Big Gunpowder River in Baltimore County, from Chesapeake Bay to Prettyboy Dam.

The governor also said the project should include the valley of the Little Gunpowder, which forms much of the boundary between Baltimore and Harford counties.

Asking for a study on the matter, in a letter to Chairman Joseph Meyerhoff of the State Planning Commission, McKeldin said: "The rivers readily would lend themselves to the development of ponds and lakes for recreation and the adjacent land is ideal for rugged hiking trails and camp sites."

"This natural beauty already is threatened with encroachment by both residential and industrial development and we should begin our studies, planning and acquisition of land as soon as possible."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers

Mill Race Pumping Station Gets Test

A test of the Mill Race pumping station of the Cumberland flood control system was tested yesterday.

Water from Wills Creek, swollen by weekend rains, was bypassed to the pumping units to test the pumps under actual conditions.

Roy F. Maphis, foreman of the city's flood control maintenance crew, said the pumps operated well, and he termed the tests successful.

State Installs Fire Season Safeguards

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Maryland is proud of the broad sweeps of its forested lands, public and private, and intends to keep them beautiful. It can use legal persuasions, if necessary.

The spring fire season started March 1 and continues until May 31. During this period extra precautions and rules are invoked regarding the burning of trash and debris.

It's a seasonal program which is repeated during the fall fire season, Sept. 15 to Dec. 15.

Scattered across the state are fire lookout towers where watchers keep a sharp lookout for suspicious smoke. There are four towers in District 2, with headquarters at Laurel.

In a tiny cubicle on a platform 102 feet above ground on a frail looking framework, men who love conservation work in the great outdoors keep looking and looking.

One tower is on Maryland 29 not far from Washington. There is another at Long Hill below Glen Burnie, from where you can see all the radio towers at Annapolis, the topside of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, Baltimore, the Sparrow's Point factories and the glint of buildings at Friendship International Airport.

It's a beautiful sight. "And it can be tiresome too," said Ranger John Shortall, a 15-year man on this job.

What do they do all day. Read, watch television? "No, just look," the ranger said.

Horse In Comeback As People's Pets

WASHINGTON (INS) — The horse may have lost its fight with the tractor on the farm but it's making a comeback as a pet.

The Agriculture Department reports that in New Jersey, for example, there are 150 horse breeding farms compared with only six 20 years ago. In Iowa, 4-H club members have shown a growing interest in quarter horses.

Ponies, too, are becoming more popular. More than half of them are purchased by persons over the age of 50—presumably grandparents who buy for their grandchildren.

D'Alesandro Appoints Tax Study Group

Seeks New Revenue After Ad, Inventory Taxes Are Removed

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro has named a committee confronted with one of the knottiest problems the city has ever had: How to raise new taxes.

The mayor named the new committee yesterday while at almost the same time putting his signature to bills that did away with taxes on advertising and on inventories and equipment of manufacturers.

That revenue loss will cost the city an estimated 9 million dollars in much needed tax money the first year. Within four years, it will amount to some 20 million dollars annually.

Buck Heads Group
Heading the seven-member committee named by D'Alesandro is Charles H. Buck, president of the Maryland Title Guaranty Co.

The mayor's tax program had raised a storm of protest from several quarters.

The Chamber of Commerce had complained that the tax on business and inventories was driving out some firms and keeping others from building here.

Businessmen and advertising media complained that the total 6 per cent tax on advertising was discriminatory and court suits filed to do away with it are pending.

After sponsoring the tax measures through the City Council, D'Alesandro announced a change of heart several weeks ago. He said repeal was needed to stimulate the economic climate in a period of recession.

Called Political Move
One of his opponents for the U. S. Senate nomination on the Democrats' slate called his move a political one.

The advertising tax imposed a 4 per cent levy on sales of ads, and 2 per cent on gross receipts of advertising media. That tax is due to expire after this year, under the new statute, unless upset earlier in the courts.

The tax on business machinery and inventory is to be eliminated 25 per cent at a time over a four-year period. The city estimated its annual revenue from that source at 11 million dollars.

The General Assembly at its session this year outlawed discriminatory taxes on advertising at the local or county level.

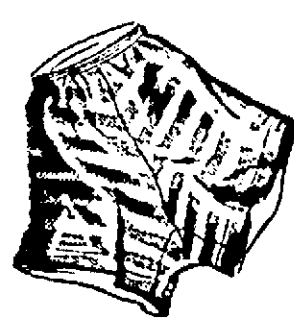

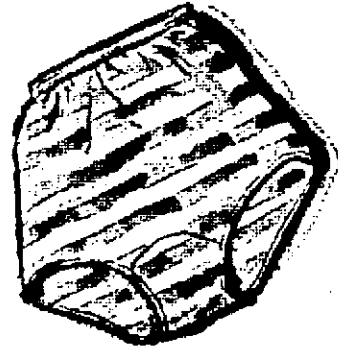

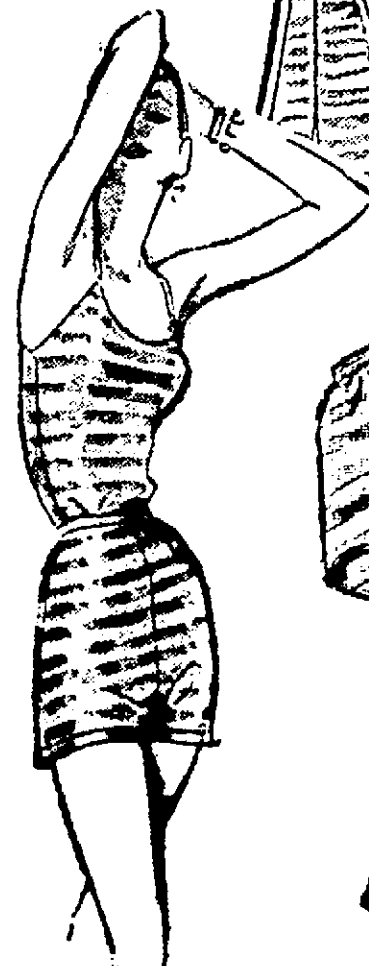

Kentucky Tobacco Vote Set June 5-7

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department has scheduled a referendum June 5-7 to determine whether farmers using the Morehead, Ky., tobacco market want free and mandatory tobacco inspection and market news service.

Mr., Mrs. John E. Effland Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Effland, 527 Pearce Avenue, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday with a reception, given by their children, at the Woman's Civic Club House.

Following the reception a dinner was given in their honor attended by their daughters, Mrs. W. Rex Beck and Mrs. J. Fred Strausburg, city, Mrs. Walter V. Appold, Baltimore, and their son John Effland Jr., of Baltimore. Also present were their 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Effland were married April 8, 1908 at Davis, W. Va., by Rev. E. D. Hanna of the Methodist Church. Their attendants were the late Miss Margaret V. Smith and John W. Mack, both of Davis.

Mrs. Effland is the former Miss Lulu Kinser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Kinser of Everett, Pa. Mr. Effland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Effland, of Davis.

Mr. Effland at the time of his retirement three years, was District manager of the local Home Mutual Life Insurance Company, having been with the company here and at Hagerstown for 43 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Effland enjoy good health and are active in their home and church affairs, both being interested in gardening and raising flowers. They are members of Grace Baptist Church.

The golden theme was carried out in the decorations and tiered wedding cake.

Doctor's Combination of Ingredients Stops Stomach Gas Before It Starts

(Special)—Thousands of people who suffer from gas, indigestion, heartburn, belching, flatulence and other symptoms of acid indigestion now report wonderful relief, thanks to a formula developed by a prominent doctor and known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Containing not just one or two, but a special combination of 7 ingredients, this famous medicine is designed to stop stomach gas before it even starts. Instead of upsetting the stomach, as too frequent use of soda and alkalis often does, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery actually promotes normal stomach activity. Taken regularly, it tones up your digestive system and helps you avoid gas, pain, heartburn and sour stomach. Once you start taking it, you will find that you can eat what you like without distress. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped so many people that over 35 million bottles have been sold. Get it at your druggist's today in liquid or tablet form. Money back if not satisfied.

Built-In Bedboard

Newest mattress available for persons with back trouble is an orthopedic-type mattress, featuring a built-in bedboard. The first mattress of its kind to contain a built-in bedboard in its inner construction, the board is sandwiched between a double-deck construction of upper and lower layer springs.

The corrective action exerted by the bedboard keeps the spine properly aligned providing greater support to the back where it is needed.

Banker Jailed For Shortage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Howard M. Rose, 37, assistant manager of the Western Pennsylvania National Bank's Belle Vernon office, was arrested by the FBI yesterday and charged with making false entries in bank books.

The FBI said the entries were made to cover a $1,600 shortage. U. S. Commissioner Fred E. Ohley set bond at $2,000. Rose is married and the father of three children.

Federal lands in Idaho make up 65.2 of the state's total land area.

Hearing Planned On C&O Park Bill

A hearing will be held next month before the House Subcommittee on Interior and Insular Affairs concerning the C&O Canal National Historical Park bill, according to Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde.

The congressman, paid what he termed a non-political visit to Allegany County yesterday.

He indicated he would return as a guest at the annual Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association smoker at Barton on April 19, but said he had no political comments to make on his visit here since he was running unopposed for reelection in this year's GOP primary election.

The House subcommittee is headed by Rep. Gracie Pfof (D-Idaho), and Congressman Hyde said people interested in the parkway measure should write to Rep. Pfof before the May hearing. Many groups probably will make plans to attend the hearing, he added.

Although the Senate already has passed a canal parkway measure introduced by Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg, a similar measure in the House has been held up pending the subcommittee hearing.

Rep. Hyde said yesterday he saw public favor turning more and more toward passage of the bill, even in Washington County where the bill has been bitterly fought by large bodies of sportsmen and conservation-minded persons. He noted that large advertisements in Washington County papers backing the bill have been placed by the CIO-AFL.

The Congressman brought up the canal subject while speaking of a television interview Saturday night in Washington.

Rep. Hyde was asked during the interview why the canal bill apparently had died after so much early interest in the measure. He said he answered that the measure had not died and that the House hearing, originally set in March, now has been tentatively set for May. He also brought out the fact that the Senate already has passed the bill.

Another query posed the congressman on the interview concerned the fact that the national park would run along a heavily polluted river—the Potomac.

Congressman Hyde said that the park would be an added incentive to bring about the cleaning up of the Potomac River. He also pointed out at the interview that the Potomac is not polluted along the entire distance of the 160-mile parkway.

He then said he hoped that Western-Marylanders would take concerted action at the hearing to bring about a favorable report from the subcommittee.

The representative returned last night to Washington.

Armed Forces Day Parade Planned HereLine Of March Outlined For Event May 12

A parade will feature the Armed Forces Day observance in Cumberland on May 12.

Thomas F. Conlon, parade chairman, is extending an invitation to local organizations to participate in the military review, which will assemble at 8 p. m. and march half an hour later.

As in past years the various units will assemble in the area of the Armory on South Centre Street. Those organizations planning to be in the parade are asked to notify the parade committee by May 6.

The formation list will be announced two days later, at which time units will learn of their positions in the parade.

A reviewing stand will be located at City Hall with Mayor Roy W. Eves in charge. The line of march will be South Centre Street to South George Street, on to Baltimore Street. The paraders will march or ride down Baltimore Street to North Centre and advance to Market Street. They will travel to North Mechanic and go back to Baltimore Street to South George, Harrison Street and to the Armory to disband.

Ben Blue Slated For Operation

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Comedian Ben Blue is in the hospital today, awaiting major abdominal surgery.

A California hospital spokesman said yesterday shortly after the comedian was admitted, that Blue would undergo the operation on Thursday and will be confined to the hospital for about 10 days.

A number of Hollywood's top stars volunteered to stand in for Blue at the comedian's Santa Monica nightclub.

Labor Council To Form COPE

The organization of the Committee on Political Education will be made at a meeting of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, today at 7:30 p. m. at the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street.

F. Patrick Allender, president of Labor Council, said the COPE was formed to carry on the work of the former AFL Labor's League for Political Education and the CIO Political Action Committee.

Political efforts of AFL-CIO in the area will be coordinated, Allender added.

Idolized Cats

Early Egyptians made an idol of the cat because their food depended on the annual grain harvest and cats kept swarms of rats and mice from eating their nation's sustenance.

LaVale Civic Group Elects

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association met last night and elected new officers and five members to serve on the board of directors.

The new board members include Frank Tepper, John Stark, C. A. Lancaster, L. Hayes Chambers and Mrs. Richard M. Johnson. The new members will serve three-year terms.

Following the election of the five new board members, the 18-member board of directors met and named officers of the association for the coming year. The new officers will be Lloyd Buchanan, chairman of the board; Tepper, vice chairman, and Mrs. Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

In addition to the election last night, several committees were named and reports by various committees were made on activities last year.

Paul Robeson's Concert Reset As Vets Air Protest

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A musical concert featuring singer Paul Robeson will be held April 21 in the Central Baptist Church after being cancelled at Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall.

Veterans groups have complained that Robeson has expressed pro-Communist sentiments on numerous occasions.

The church's governing board approved Robeson's appearance in the 2,100 seat church, Gilbert C. Cloonan, building superintendent at Soldiers and Sailors Hall, said Robeson's appearance there would not be compatible with the "memorial character of the building."

Blaze Hits Metal Plant

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Fire last night damaged the Canonsburg Metal Co. plant here.

The blaze broke out in the plant's grinding and polishing department. Firemen from all three of the city's stations battled the flames.

They said the fire apparently was caused by sparks from one of the grinding or polishing machines. Company officials said they were not able to immediately determine the amount of damage to the plant, a one-story structure.

Episcopalians Elect Three Vestrymen

Officers Re-elected
At Meeting; Reports
On Activities Given

Emmanuel Episcopal Church elected three new vestry members at the annual congregational meeting last night at the parish house.

They are Dr. R. Rhett Rathbone, Francis H. Sweeney and Albert D. Darby Jr. Holdover members of the Vestry are Robert Little Ebert, John E. Geare, W. Eric Gibbs, George W. Hinkle, James E. Sullivan and Wilton Sykes.

Vestrymen ending three-year terms, who are ineligible for election until after a one-year absence from the Vestry, are William L. Wilson, Frederic W. Eiler and Warren R. Bantz.

A brief Vestry meeting was held at which all four officers were re-elected. They are Somerville Nicholson, senior warden; George F. Hazelwood, junior warden; Thomas N. Berry, registrar, and Henry W. Price, treasurer.

A number of reports were submitted by parish organizations covering activities of the past year. Two highlights of the Vestry report were the completion of the new cloister linking the church and parish house and the purchase of several lots along National Highway in LaVale for the possible future development of a parish house for the rapidly growing suburban area.

Rev. H. Maunsel Richardson, rector, reported that the congregation ended the year 1957 with 515 confirmed members.

Robert E. Barnard Jr. submitted a committee report recommending certain improvements in the Sunday School organization and citing the need for expanded facilities for the Sunday School.

Italian Red Leader Sick

ROME — (INS) — Palmiro Togliatti was reported today to be a sick man and to have given up leadership of the Italian Communist Party for an indefinite period.

Deputy Secretary Luigi Longo was reliably reported to be running the party. Longo was said to be in complete charge of plans for the two-day party congress opening tomorrow as well as the political campaign for the forthcoming national election.

The Communist Newspaper Unita said Togliatti was suffering from influenza and would not attend the party congress.

But an unimpeachable source disclosed that Togliatti is suffering from "nervous depression" which causes periodic mental blackouts.

The veteran Red leader is living in a closely guarded villa in suburban Monte Sacro.

New Teachers To Start At $3,700 Mark

Assembly Provides Increase In Basic
Pay For Beginners

The starting pay for Allegany County public school teachers next September will be $3,700 annually as a result of the $400 state pay increase passed by the Legislature at the recent session.

The $400 state-paid increase will be added to the minimums in all categories. These are $3,300 for five years—to be increased $400 to $4,300, for 10 years $4,600 to be $5,000 in September, and 15 years the present maximum of $5,100 will go to $5,300. An additional $200 is paid atop these salaries for teachers with master's degrees.

Garrett County is at the bottom of the Maryland list for starting salaries with $3,100 currently being paid. This could go to $3,500 next September with the state $400 increase. The Garrett salary scale is $200 below Allegany County in each of the categories and it pays only $150 additional for teachers with a master's degree.

Area Boards To Meet

Meanwhile, the county commissioners of Washington, Frederick, Howard and Carroll counties will meet Thursday at Westminster to discuss a uniform teacher pay scale.

A spokesman said that as far as Washington County is concerned an effort will be made to keep the Washington and Frederick County teacher pay scales at the same level.

Another question confronting the officials is the matter of the $200 a year increase granted Washington County teachers last year by the Board of County Commissioners.

The Washington County Board raised the pay after the Governor vetoed a bill which would have granted an increase by the state. Since then the state has granted a $400 a year increase to teachers.

Could Withdraw

Although at the time Washington County granted the $200 increase there was a general agreement that in the event the state granted an increase, the county increase would be withdrawn.

However, at the meeting in Westminster it is expected the boards of education proposals for a new higher minimum pay will be heard. It was learned that a $4,000 minimum is wanted which would require continuation of county increases.

The minimum pay in Washington County is now $3,600 a year. If the $200 increase by the com-

Plans Outlined For Youth Group Meet

Plans are being made for the next meeting of the Youth Commission of Allegany County to be held Tuesday of next week at 8 p. m. in Central YMCA.

A nominating committee appointed at the last meeting on March 25 is preparing a slate for election to the board of directors of the commission at Tuesday's meeting.

Tentative plans, outlined by Judge George Henderson, chairman of the commission, include the election of a board of directors, election of an executive board, appointment of various operating committees and possibly the preliminary study of commission by-laws at the April session.

This will be the third meeting of the youth group which was organized officially at the March session when the officers were selected. In addition to Judge Henderson, other officials of the commission are Edward McPartland, vice chairman; Mrs. Jennie J. Grahame, recording and financial secretary; and John H. Jeffries, treasurer.

Judge Henderson, in assuming the chairmanship, suggested a board of directors with good geographic and interest representation, with between 10 and 20 directors to be selected.

It also was pointed out at the last meeting that representation of youth groups was highly desirable and the commission has extended an invitation to officers and leaders of these organizations, including Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y.

Despite increased competition for people's time, newspaper circulation in the U. S. has reached an all-time high of 58,000,000 copies purchased daily. With Canada added, the figure is approximately 62,000,000 newspapers purchased daily.

With the new state increase applied the minimum pay will be $3,800 for beginners.

There were 90 present at the initial meeting in February and as well as other interested youth persons in attendance at the March election.

Working on the nominating committee with Judge Henderson throughout the county, hopes to are Robert Mathews, Carole have all interested parties at Ransom, Edward O'Rourke, Wil-

W. Va. Store Owner Arrested For Selling Colored Chicks

CHARLESTON (AP) — A feed store manager charged with cruelty to animals over the sale of colored chicks for Easter explained in Municipal Court Monday that he thought non-Charlestonians could buy them.

Thomas Southern, 37, manager of Guinn's Feed Store, said: "I asked everyone I sold them to where they lived. I thought it was just against the law for Charleston residents to possess them."

Judge James McWhorter placed the charges against Southern on the open docket after hearing the testimony.

Humane Officer Kenneth Pauley told the court 122 chicks at the store were confiscated and placed in the Charleston Animal Shelter. Then a representative from the Union Mission asked that the chicks be placed in his custody so that they could be placed on the mission farm outside the city. Judge McWhorter granted the request.

The ordinance against the sale of colored chicks was passed last year. The president of the Charleston Humane Society argued for it, saying: "Chicks and ducklings cannot stand the mauling they receive from children and usually die a few days after they are given as Easter gifts. Besides, it is inhuman to dunk them and sell them as novelties."

Winter Road Damage Gets Top Priority

ARTHRITIS

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Road Commission is assigning priorities for repair of the severe winter damage to West Virginia highways.

The priorities are being set up so that, as soon as the condition of the sub-grade permits, work on repairing the worst damage can be undertaken first.

Winter damage was discussed Monday at a meeting of the SRC's advisory commission. Gov. Underwood attended as an observer.

The advisory group was told the inventory of winter damage has been completed, but no dollar estimate is yet available.

Road Commissioner Patrick C. Graney and his deputy, George E. White Jr., discussed construction plans for this year with the advisory body.

Graney and White said the Road Commission has not yet obtained a copy of the bill passed by Congress last week to step up the federal aid highway program so as to relieve unemployment.

They said several questions remain unanswered as to means of qualifying for the additional money made available under the measure and possible restrictions on the funds. For one thing, the Road Commission does not know whether any of the money may be spent for acquiring rights of way or whether it is limited to actual construction.

Graney and White said they hope to have the answers in a week or so and are preparing alternate budgets to be ready for a variety of contingencies.

Musical Group Will Rehearse

A combined rehearsal of the Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra and Cumberland Choral Society will be held this evening at Allegany High School.

The rehearsal is in preparation for the concert Friday at 8:30 p. m. at Allegany High School auditorium.

The choral society will be featured in several selections directed by Charles Sager. The orchestra will be conducted by Wilton Syckes.

The concert will be a highlight of the state convention of the Maryland Federation of Music Clubs scheduled here Thursday through Saturday.

Mrs. Howard Irwin, president of the Music and Arts Club of Cumberland, host club to the convention, has announced that tickets may be obtained from any club member or from orchestra and choral society members. Tickets are also available at Syckes Music Store.

Bob Crosby's Wife Has Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Band leader Bob Crosby's wife, June, is under treatment at St. Vincent's Hospital for what preliminary tests indicate is a heart condition.

She was stricken in Las Vegas Saturday night while there with the Crosby children and her mother to spend Easter with Crosby, who is starring in a show at the Sahara Hotel.

Her attack came on suddenly, with chest pains. Crosby, alarmed, chartered a plane to fly her back to Hollywood.

123 Pints Collected During Bloodmobile Visit Here

A total of 123 pints of blood were collected yesterday by the Red Cross bloodmobile.

Only 15 members of the 112 members of the Newcomers Club scheduled to donate blood appeared. Blood was given by regular donors and volunteer walk-ins. Three of the walk-ins were giving blood to replace that provided friends or relatives.

An effort to boost interest in the Red Cross blood program here was made yesterday with a National Guard sound truck manned by First Sgt. John E. Lewis.

Sp/3C Joseph C. Vandegrift, which toured the city. The next local visit of the bloodmobile will be at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street on May 5.

Physicians on duty yesterday included Dr. Ralph Ballin, Dr. Robert Feddis and Dr. Elizabeth Brings.

New One-Gallon Donors include Charles Meagher, 130 Columbia Street; Mrs. Joseph Hoban, 591 McMullen Highway; and James H. Pick Jr., Hyndman, Pa.

New Two-Gallon Donors listed yesterday are John Boyle, 387 Bowling Avenue, Bowling Green;

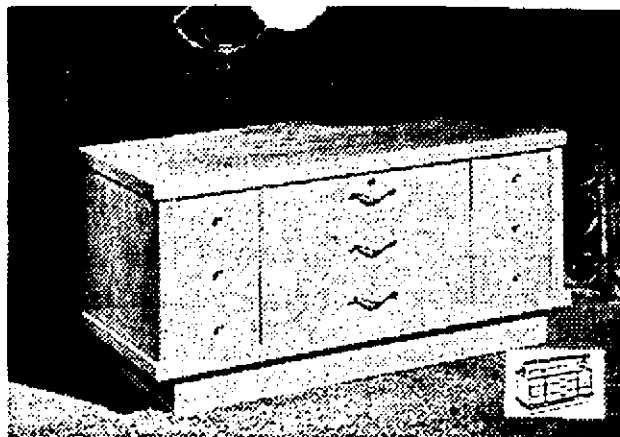

Orval Rhodes, 9 Roberts Street; and Billie V. Shirk, Williams Road, RD 2.

The bloodmobile will be at the American Legion Home in Frostburg this afternoon.

Registration Set
Registration for children who will enter the first grade in September will be held Friday, from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. by SS. Peter and Paul School.

Business Briefs . . .

NEW YORK — (INS) — The National Industrial Conference Board reported today that the current recession and the attendant unemployment has resulted in a loss to the U. S. economy of $1,500,000,000 in wages and salaries from last August through February. It added, however, that about 30 per cent of the loss appears to have been offset by higher unemployment benefits. The NIBC said that it seems unlikely that the offset would remain at this pace should the recession continue at the February level.

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (INS) — Northwest Airlines reported today record earnings in 1957 of $4,818,971, or $3.56 per common share, compared with $2.18 per share the previous year. C of C Expert To Be Speaker

Walter D. Fackler, assistant director of the Economic Research Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will address a Chamber of Commerce group here tomorrow. He will lead the discussion on "Prices, Profits and Wages" before the Economics Discussion Group of the Chamber tomorrow night in the conference room of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant.

Much of today's economic conflict, the Chamber said, is waged over the interrelation of prices, profits and wages.

The price motive, it said, is under attack by a militant labor movement constantly seeking higher wage rates and increasingly higher benefits, and the consumer is staggering under an increasingly higher cost of living. Members of the discussion group are being invited to bring with them one or more business associates or acquaintances as guests.

Sewer Plant Bids Offered By Companies

Figures For Tri-Towns Facilities Not Known As Check Is Made

The Upper Potomac River Commission opened bids today on waste treatment facilities it will build for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Luke, Piedmont and Westernport.

The commission, meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom this morning, received four bids (one a joint venture) on Contract No. 1, the Luke-Westernport trunk sewer; and seven bids (one a joint venture) on Contract No. 2, the waste treatment plant itself.

Commission sources indicated it may take some time to tabulate bids submitted on a unit basis and no figures were available immediately.

Plant On Island

Submitting bids on Contract No. 1 were Fruin-Conlon Construction Company and C. and C. Construction Company (a joint venture); Hazelwood Construction Company, this city; Inter-county Construction Corporation; and the E. J. Albrecht Company, contractor for the local flood control program.

Bidding on the waste treatment plant are Vanguard Construction Company, Hazelwood, Fruin-Conlon and C. and C. (a joint venture), Frank E. Freeman, Inc., Malan Construction Company, Carl E. Widell and Son, and F. McGraw and Company.

The sewage treatment program, which has been estimated to cost $3,000,000, will be constructed on an island in the Potomac River just below Westernport.

Various plans were submitted to the three communities involved to enable them to adopt the proposal best suited to their needs. Decisions have been reached but Westernport found it necessary to amend its charter before it can sign an agreement allowing the commission to proceed with construction and enabling the town to have waste treatment.

Two Proposals

One plan presented provides that the towns and company share all costs of construction, operation and maintenance based on actual use, and the commission would build certain pipelines and pumping stations necessary to transport sewage to the treatment plant.

A second plan would provide for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company to pay for all construction, operation and maintenance costs of the treatment plant and main trunk sewer and treat sewage from the towns without charge. Individual towns would pay charges incurred in transporting sewage from the towns to the plant.

Westernport has accepted the first plan, Piedmont and Luke the second.

While all three will use the facilities, it is expected that the paper company will pay more than 95 per cent of all costs based on rates of flow estimated at present.

Trunk Sewer

Included as part of the construction aside from the treatment plant, are a trunk sewer in the Potomac from a point near Luke-Piedmont bridge to the waste treatment plant; an interceptor sewer in Georges Creek and pumping station required to transport Westernport's waste to the plant.

Bonds for construction of the treatment plant and necessary facilities are to be sold by the Upper Potomac River Commission and will be paid off over a 40-year period on the basis of proportionate use of the system by Westernport and the paper company.

Westernport adopted a charter amendment March 19 to enable it to levy charges against users of its sewer system. The amendment will become effective May 8 providing no petition for a referendum is filed within 40 days.

Firemen Make Sixth Trip To Lumber Yard

Firemen from Central Station this morning again answered an alarm at the Buchanan Lumber Company on North Centre Street. Firemen have made six trips to the lumber company building which was destroyed by fire last Wednesday night. The firemen have been returning to the scene to "wet down" the area.

Commission Receives Bids For Route 40 Work

The State Roads Commission in Baltimore is opening bids today on a Route 40 project from Gilpin to West Flintstone, a distance of 2,353 miles and including a pre-stressed concrete bridge over Flintstone Creek.

The project was readvertised after the commission rejected bids several weeks ago. It provides for grading, drainage and surfacing.

Amcelle Pact Approved By Local Union

A new contract between the Celanese Corporation of America and Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, has been approved by members of the union in meetings last night and today.

John G. Thomas, union president, said the membership voted unanimously at both meetings to ratify the new pact.

"The contract, for one year, provides increases of six, seven and nine cents per hour for the 1,900 hourly paid workers at the Amcelle plant."

Production workers at the plant will receive six or seven cents more an hour, depending on grade, and mechanics of all classification a nine-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Workers in the Coning Examination department will get a five-cent wage adjustment in addition to the general increase, Thomas said.

Wage increases in the pact will be retroactive to Sunday, and the contract, which will run for one year, will become effective today, Thomas said.

The new pact will increase the average wage at the plant from $1.92 to $1.99 an hour.

The new contract will also provide that workers serving on jury duty will be paid the difference between jury pay and their base pay at the plant.

Wesley Cook, director of the TWU's Synthetic Yarn Division, headed the union negotiators during the final contract negotiations.

He termed the contract a very good settlement, considering circumstances in the industry.

Garrett Area Hit By Snow

Garrett County had more snow last night but rising temperatures this morning were quickly dispelling what remained after State Road Commission crews toiled through the night.

Accident had two and a half inches of snow and Oakland two and a quarter inches, according to R. E. L. Putnam, district maintenance engineer. Light snow fell until after 8 a. m. but stopped later. Six trucks and 15 men had most of the roadways cleared early this morning and the rising temperatures were expected to take care of the remainder.

Eight trucks and 22 men worked the Oakland area. No chains were recommended but the SRC had been urging drivers to use caution.

Big Savage had the lowest area temperature early today. It was 26 degrees and three-quarters of an inch of snow fell there. A State Roads crew plowed and cindered and the highway was bare.

Less than an inch of snow fell in the Frederick area.

Clearing but cold is forecast tonight for Garrett and Allegany counties with a low of 24 to 30. Tomorrow is expected to be mostly sunny and turning warmer in the afternoon. Increasing cloudiness and warmer is in prospect for Thursday.

Pastor Assumes His New Duties

Rev. Charles D. Coley has assumed the duties as pastor of the Church of God, Fifth and Seymour streets.

Rev. Mr. Coley came here from Boynton, Pa., where he served three and one-half years.

A revival series is being conducted at the church. Services are held nightly at 7:30 p. m., and will continue through April 20.

Three Arrested In Chicken Theft

Three men have been arrested in connection with the theft of eight chickens from a poultry house near Romney, W. Va.

The trio, James Cowgill, 21, and Brother Ginevan, 24, both of the Pin Oak section of Hampshire County, and William Niser, 20, Baltimore, face action at the June term of Hampshire County Circuit Court.

Sgt. W. Frank Bowley of the West Virginia State Police at Romney said Ginevan was not given a first name as a child, thus he is known as Brother Ginevan.

Police said the three broke into the poultry house of Frank Allen in Pin Oak on March 23 and made off with eight chickens. After Sgt. Bowley started an investigation, the trio took off for Baltimore.

Cowgill and Ginevan were apprehended April 2 by Baltimore authorities, while Niser was picked up by Anne Arundel authorities near Ferndale, Md., over the weekend.

Yesterday Cowgill and Ginevan were taken before Justice of the Peace O. W. Snarr in Romney and released under $1,000 bond each for action of the grand jury.

Niser was scheduled for a hearing before Snarr today in Romney.

County Provides Drainage Pipe

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners will provide 180 feet of 10-inch pipe for drainage purposes at the Moscow Playground.

The Moscow Playground Association requested the pipe as it said the children of the community have no place to play and the field used needs drainage. J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, said a man who is operating a sawmill nearby has offered to bulldoze the ditch for the pipe and also cover the drainage line.

Senior Citizens Meet Thursday

The Senior Citizens Club, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Elks Club, South Centre Street.

Two deceased members, Lemuel Kelson, a charter member, and J. J. Tipton, will be eulogized by Clifton E. Fuller.

The club's membership is open to any person 60 years of age or over.

Shaw said he read in the local newspapers the statements by each commissioner concerning the library plan. He said that Commissioner (Charles N.) Wilkinson's statement that the county needs an addition to the County Infirmary before a library is probably correct. "But why not have both," Shaw asked.

Shaw also said that voters should ask the various candidates for county commissioner how they stand on the library proposition as well as other important questions.

He closed his letter with the opinion that "I feel it is time for a change of faces on the county board for everyone concerned."

Moorefield Meeting Not Hearing On Dam Plans

A public hearing on water development problems of the South Branch of the Potomac River has as its main purpose the obtaining of views on what a comprehensive plan for conservation of water resources should be.

This was emphasized today by Col. George B. Sumner, district engineer of the U. S. Army Engineer District, Washington, D. C., who will conduct the hearing Tuesday, April 15, at Moorefield's Town Hall.

He said the session is not a hearing on the Springfield and Royal Glen Dams as proposed in a 1945 report.

When South Branch problems are considered along with problems of all other parts of the basin, an overall comprehensive plan will be developed for presentation to Congress. Before the plan is submitted, additional public hearings will be held in order that all local views are known.

It is Col. Sumner's hope that emphasis at the Moorefield hearing will be on positive approaches to water resource conservation and the South Branch water development problems and to alternate solutions that may be offered for consideration.

Members of Col. Sumner's staff accompanying him to the Moorefield meeting will be Donald V. C. Birrell, Floyd B. Morris, Harry E. Schwarz, Francis G. Wells and Michael F. Mahoney.

Representatives from Hampshire, Hardy, Grant and Pendleton counties are expected to attend.

Hampshire County residents have voiced protest to a possible revision of a "high dam" plan for control of floods but have said they would favor any sensible solution.

The announcement by Col. Sumner today apparently aims to point out that the over-all problems of the South Branch will be reviewed during the Moorefield hearing rather than just the 1945 report on dams.

LaVale Bond Issue Given County Okeh

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today approved plans of the LaVale Sanitary Commission for a bond issue to provide funds to erect a pumping station for the community's water supply system.

William Claus, chairman of the Sanitary Commission, appeared before the board to outline the situation. He said that a bond issue of $30,000 will be sufficient to pay for the pumping station.

Claus said it is hoped to have the new facility erected in time for use this summer. He said the pumping station will insure adequate supplies of water to residents of the LaVale area who are on the line.

The county commissioners must approve any such bond issues as the Sanitary Commission does not have the power to issue bonds. The bond issue will be limited to four per cent interest, under the law setting up the Sanitary Commission, Claus explained.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, was instructed to arrange for the bond issue details. The issue will probably be offered to local banks, Claus said. The Sanitary Commission is in good financial condition and the bond issue could probably be paid over a 10-year period.

The residents of LaVale and the other areas in District 29 obtain their water supply from the City of Cumberland.

Library Plan Gets Support

Ross F. Shaw, of Oldtown, wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today in support of the proposed county library system.

Shaw said he read in the local newspapers the statements by each commissioner concerning the library plan. He said that Commissioner (Charles N.) Wilkinson's statement that the county needs an addition to the County Infirmary before a library is probably correct. "But why not have both," Shaw asked.

Shaw also said that voters should ask the various candidates for county commissioner how they stand on the library proposition as well as other important questions.

He closed his letter with the opinion that "I feel it is time for a change of faces on the county board for everyone concerned."

Board Supports Pension Aid Plan

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today approved a motion to recommend to the Allegany County delegation and to the state senator that the Legislature enact a law to authorize the county to levy sufficient fund to pay an annual supplemental pension of $600 to teachers.

The county commissioners had adopted a resolution February 4 to provide for payment of the supplemental pension to teachers. Two weeks ago the county board found that under the opinion of their attorney they did not have the power to pay such supplemental pension.

A committee from the Allegany County Teachers Association met with the board today and said they appreciate the sincerity of the commissioners in passing the resolution February 4 and in order to remedy the situation they requested support of the board for the legislative proposal.

City Issues Two Dwelling Permits

Two permits for dwellings have been issued by the city building engineer.

Louis E. Madden will construct a one-story 30 by 44 foot home on parts of lots 16 and 17 at 513 Biehl Avenue. The structure will have concrete block foundation, brick veneer walls and asbestos shingle roof. Cost is estimated at $10,000.

Roy A. Malone, 404 Fayette Street, was granted a permit to construct a 53 by 30 foot brick dwelling on Lot 21 and part of Lot 20 Mt. Royal Avenue in Gates Addition. The dwelling will have a concrete block foundation and asphalt shingle roof. Cost is estimated at $5,000.

Firemen Check Call

Firemen from South End Station checked a flue fire early this afternoon at 435 Homer Street.

Experience Vote Theme Of Tawes Slate

"Harmony" Group Holds Conference Then Starts Tour

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Democrat slate headed by J. Millard Tawes says it will key its campaign to the theme of experience in office. It adds up, they say, to about 100 years of public service.

That was the only common platform of the quarter of candidates as they visited Southern Maryland today in the first stage of their four week tour in the counties.

The so-called "harmony" ticket kicked off its trip with a news conference here yesterday — one of the shortest on record.

In addition to Comptroller Tawes, who aspires to be governor, the candidates include Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, for the U. S. Senate nomination; State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, candidate for comptroller, and Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, running for reelection.

Experience Keynote

When asked if the four would campaign on a common platform, Tawes replied no, they will sound the keynote of "experience in office."

Elaborating on their qualifications, Tawes noted that D'Alesandro had been victorious in all 22 primaries and general elections he has entered.

He also pointed out that Goldstein had never been defeated in a 20-year skirmish at the ballot box, and that he (Tawes) and Sybert had tasted defeat but once.

"A pretty good record for the four of us," Tawes concluded.

The campaign headquarters credits D'Alesandro with 32 years of various public offices, Tawes with 25, Sybert with 24 and Goldstein about 20.

Newsman invited to the news conference at a downtown hotel were asked to give up a couch so the candidates could be photographed.

Then, settled down nicely, the four propped their feet up on a cocktail table to give photographers clear shots of the soles of their shoes.

In Good Shape

The footgear appeared to be in good shape. At least none of it betrayed a worn circle in the sole similar to the famed photograph of Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson during the 1952 campaign.

"We'll take another one like this at the end of the tour to see how much shoe leather they've worn off," a campaign aide explained.

Then television cameras whirled, a D'Alesandro aide interrupted the conference to get him to sign some papers, and a waitress pushed a cart with refreshments through the room. That was enough to derail any semblance of an organized press conference, and the affair broke up into knots of newsmen and politicians.

The "harmony" four also dispensed with one other bit of campaign business. They handed out statements announcing appointment of new campaign aides.

Others Active

Meanwhile, Clarence D. Long, candidate for the U. S. Senate nomination, named a 10-man Franklin Goldstein as chairman of his backers in Baltimore's Fifth Legislative District.

George P. Mahoney, another Democrat running for the Senate nomination, continued stumping on the Eastern Shore. After spending Monday in Dorchester County, he moved into neighboring Talbot today and planned to cultivate votes in Caroline tomorrow.

In a statement released at his Baltimore headquarters today Mahoney said there was a gimmick in the administration's program for helping small business in areas of heavy unemployment.

"It looks like on paper," said Mahoney, "but the administration's past performances in this field don't inspire much confidence in their ability or willingness to carry it out."

He called "a complete flop" a program last year undertaken by the Defense Department.

The candidate said that of a total of 157 million dollars in defense contracts awarded in surplus labor areas, small business got a total of only $927,620 in contracts. He said this covered the period July 1 through Dec. 31.

Johnson Backed For Board Post

Wilbur Johnson, of Nikep, has been nominated by County Commissioner William A. Wilson as a member of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

There will be two vacancies on the board in the near future. Nominees were requested by the State Department of Public Welfare. William R. Carscaden and Earl Robertson will end their six-year terms on the board.

Johnson is president of Local 636, United Paper Workers Union, AFL-CIO, which has a contract covering production workers of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Chapman, Wilkinson Clash On Proposal For Cut In Cost

An argument ensued at today's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners when J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, questioned Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson concerning the suggested cuts in the Roads Department budget.

Chapman asked Wilkinson what process of elimination he used when he suggested the budget item for his department be cut by a total of $58,000. Chapman also inquired if the suggestion was based on a personal matter between Wilkinson and himself.

The roads supervisor then turned to Wilkinson and said: "Any comment?"

Wilkinson told Chapman it was "none of your business." Chapman retorted that "you can deal with ignorance but not stupidity."

Chapman then said: "For the benefit of Commissioners Wilson (William A.) and Orr (James) I would like to point out that the original budget items as I submitted are absolutely needed in the operation of the Roads Department."

Commissioner Orr said that in the last seven years Chapman has done an excellent job and the roads system is in better condition now than when Chapman took over.

Chapman then commented that it would be interesting to check into the minutes to determine the volume of tires purchased by the county through Wilkinson some years ago when the commissioner was a salesman employed by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Chapman said that in those days there were only 37 pieces of equipment which used tires while today there are twice as many vehicles in the department. Chapman said a comparison would be interesting.

Wilkinson commented that the records will show the tires purchased were needed and can be obtained by anyone interested.

Elderly Man Critical After Car Collision

An elderly Bedford area man was "critically" injured yesterday in a two-car accident five miles north of Bedford along U.S. Route 220.

Reported in "critical" condition today at Bedford County Memorial Hospital is Charles D. Hershberger, 81, of RD 1, Bedford.

Pennsylvania State Police said the man sustained only minor injuries in the accident, but apparently suffered a stroke at the time of the crash. His only injuries in the mishap were a laceration of his elbow and back injuries.

Trooper John Haywood, of the Bedford sub-station who investigated, said the Hershberger car collided with another auto driven by John W. Sherbine, 21, of Bedford County.

Approximately $750 property damage was caused. No charges have been preferred pending the outcome of Hershberger's condition.

Cresaptown Civic Group Election Held

CRESAPTOWN — Wilmer C. Knepper was re-elected president of the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association yesterday.

During the annual election, held at the community's water office Knepper received a total of 41 votes, the highest number of a slate of six candidates, including three incumbents and three newcomers.

Some 54 eligible voters of the special taxing area of Cresaptown cast ballots. Charles E. Wendt, who received 31 votes, Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company appeared before council to explain the dial system, pointing out that calls have jumped from 40 per cent to 400 per cent.

Also re-elected was Herbert C. Heineman, treasurer for the past two years, who received 29 votes.

The newcomers who were unsuccessfully seeking office received the following number of votes: John Luzier, 21; James E. Feeney, 19 and Fred A. Gates, 16. Holdovers are Water Commissioner Joseph Wenrich and Dirk Vandenberg, secretary.

After the general election, officials of the association met to determine officers for the next two years.

They will be installed during a meeting scheduled for 7:30 p. m. May 5 at the water office. The association was formed in 1949 and its main purpose is supervising the supply of water to the community.

Fire Company Maps Project

PIEDMONT — Tri-Towns Fire Company I plans to build an addition to the fire hall in the near future, according to Raymond Lee, who submitted a report to the Mayor and Council last night.

Lee stated that Mrs. Roberta Tichnell Kady had donated a plot of ground, 16 feet wide and 53 feet long, to the Fire Company. The new addition will be of concrete blocks of one story, and it is hoped to add a second story later.

Most of the labor will be volunteered by the members of the fire company. Lee also asked council if the town would donate the use of any of its equipment, such as a truck. The matter was approved.

Lee reported that the new LaFrance fire truck which was ordered some time ago will be delivered Saturday, May 24. A representative will look over the present fire truck and ascertain what parts are needed to repair it. He will do the labor free of cost, the only charge being the cost of the parts.

Donations to meet the down payment on the truck when it arrives are encouraging, Lee said. There are now 27 men in the company and they have only 10 rubber coats and 10 pairs of boots. Council indicated assistance would be given to purchase more.

The fire siren located on top of the Moose Home is about worn out, Lee stated, adding that a new one would cost about $900. He suggested that after the siren is sounded that an officer be stationed at the intersection of Ashfield and Third Streets, and one at the intersection of Child's Avenue and Second Street until the Tri-Towns Fire Company, and Potomac Fire Company trucks of Westernport have passed.

After that police can go to the scene of the fire to direct traffic. When firemen arrive at the fire scene, a fireman will be dropped off to direct traffic until the town policemen arrive. Only firemen, employees of the gas company, telephone and electric firms will be permitted to go through that area. No other vehicles will be permitted to enter.

Town Seeking Federal Loan

PIEDMONT — The Town of Piedmont will request a loan from the Federal Housing and Loan Finance Agency as the first step in taking advantage of the proposed sewage treatment plant to be located in the vicinity of Westernport.

Edward Kidd, Baltimore, and William H. Marean, Cumberland, of the Robert T. Regester Engineering Company of Baltimore, discussed some of the necessary steps to be taken with Mayor Rodney Baker and Council last night.

Approximate cost of a preliminary survey and report will be between $1,500 and $2,000. The government would lend the money and payment will not have to be made until work is started on installing interceptors.

It has not been determined whether sewage can be carried to the plant by gravity, or if it will be necessary to build a pumping station. However, if any work is started, including the survey or any construction before the money is received, the government will not offer the loan.

Representatives of the engineering company advised council to secure necessary forms and they will assist the town in filling them out with the help of an attorney. It was indicated that the Regester firm would be employed to do the engineering work.

A number of the streets of the town are in need of repair, but council does not have the money to do the work, Mayor Baker said.

"They have to be rebuilt," Baker stated. "They are just like an old pair of pants that is patched and repatched and finally there is nothing to patch."

Means of raising additional funds were discussed, including placing a fee on all drivers of motor vehicles in the town.

James Wills, drum major of the Blue Angels Drum Corps sponsored by Victory Post 153, American Legion, appeared concerning recent action of Council in not permitting practice on the streets after 8 p. m., although it would be permissible when requested on special occasions.

Mayor Baker complimented the drum corps, and the time of practice was moved up to 9 p. m. A meeting of the finance committee of the town will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Court Rules County Gets Slots Money

SNOW HILL, Md. — Slot machine money taken in raids on the Delmarva Club near Pocomoke City will go to the county under an order handed down by the Worcester County Circuit Court.

Judges Rex A. Taylor and E. McMaster Duer also ordered that liquor taken in the raids be offered to hospitals for medicinal purposes.

The judges directed that an undetermined amount of money found in the slot machines be turned over to the county treasurer.

The Delmarva Fleet Reserve Home, Inc., was fined $2,000 and Paul Carey, a Navy petty officer stationed at Chincoteague Naval Air Station, was fined $300.

Wednesday for maintaining a gambling table at the club.

The club pleaded guilty to four charges growing out of two raids, made earlier this year by Sheriff Edwin D. Lynch.

Charges are still pending against four other persons.

Yanks May Have Trouble But Should Win Flag

AP Writer Hand Picks White Sox For Second

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — There is a strong suspicion that the New York Yankees will have more trouble than usual this season with the Chicago White Sox making a determined challenge.

However, the Yankees should have enough to win a ninth American League pennant in 10 years under Manager Casey Stengel. The Yankees have not looked good in spring training, losing seven of nine games over a recent stretch. In contrast, the Boston Red Sox have been burning up the grapefruit league. Chicago's pitching strength is not easily recognized in exhibitions where starters seldom work a complete game.

Detroit has been on a "shake-down cruise" during the spring. Manager Jack Tighe has been sweating out the big move of Harvey Kuenn to center field and Billy Martin to shortstop. The Tigers have been bouncing around at the bottom of the grapefruit standings but may straighten out when the bell rings.

Stengel Alling Like all the other clubs, the Yanks have been handicapped by the bad spring weather with rain-outs and soggy playing fields. Stengel has trouble shaking off a heavy cold while master minding his usual platoon system. A sore arm that kept Tony Kubek out of action for a week delayed Casey's experiment of Kubek at short and Gil McDougald at second. Bob Turley and Bob Grim have been hit hard in the games and Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks have been spotty.

Mickey Mantle, the man who figures to challenge Ted Williams for the batting title, is having a good spring. Whitey Ford has gone nine innings twice and Don Larsen has been effective, despite one lapse against the White Sox. Bill Skowron, Harry Simpson and Elston Howard are thumping the ball.

Wynn Lifts White Sox The addition of Early Wynn as a starting pitcher and Ray Moore as a solid man in the bullpen has given manager Al Lopez a lift at Chicago. The White Sox gave up the punch of Minnie Miñoso and Larry Doby to land the help for a pitching staff already well-manned by Billy Pierce, Dick Donovan and Jim Wilson.

Although Ted Williams did not even appear as a pinch hitter, Boston won 13 of its first 17 games. When Ted gets ready to go on opening day, Manager Mike Higgins will have the best outfield in the league with Williams, Jimmy Piersall and Jackie Jensen. The return of Don Buddin from the Army to take the shortstop job and the play of Billy Condo at second has tightened the infield.

Red Sox pitching was below par last year but more is expected from Frank Sullivan, Dave Sisler, Willard Nixon and Tom Brewer, despite his recent injury.

The Detroit experiment continues with Milt Bolling now available to back up Martin at short if needed. The big punch in the Tiger lineup is Al Kaline. Tighe counts on a batting comeback by Kuenn and expects the veteran Jim Hegon to bolster his catching.

Orioles Respected Around the Yankee camp, at least, there is respect for Baltimore's pitching, especially Connie Johnson. The Orioles don't hit many home runs but their defense is tight.

Trader Frank Lane is whirling around like a spinning top, changing the face of the Cleveland club. Larry Doby is back again. So is Miñoso, the big one who got away as a rookie. The loss of Vic Wertz, who fractured an ankle was a heavy blow to the home run department.

Kansas City still needs more pitching to help Ralph Terry, Jack Urban and Duke Maas. The batting order is largely right-handed, an open invitation to enemy managers to gang up on them with right handers.

Washington also is short on pitching with most of its power in one man, Roy Sievers. It looks like a long year for Manager Cookie Lavagetto.

From this perch, it looks like a two-way fight between the Yanks and White Sox, the hitters against the pitchers. Boston could make the grade if the pitching comes through big, especially the lefthanders. Detroit has the pitching potential to make it rugged all the way. The others should fight it out for positions in the second division.

Here's the way it lines up in this book:

1. New York
2. Chicago
3. Boston
4. Detroit
5. Baltimore
6. Cleveland
7. Kansas City
8. Washington

Brown, Dupas Predict Wins By Knockouts

NEW ORLEANS — Light-weight champion Joe Brown and flashy contender Ralph Dupas both are predicting a knockout victory in their title fight at Houston next month.

The 21-year-old Dupas, a surprisingly easy winner over welterweight Ramon Fuentes of Los Angeles in a 10-rounder last night, bristled when told Brown said he would be "surprised if the fight goes beyond 10 rounds."

Brown fought a three-round exhibition on the Dupas-Fuentes card and said Dupas lacked enough weapons to take the title.

Dupas had a slightly different opinion. "Well, you can tell Brown for me that I'll be in there pitching for a knockout, and I think I can do it. I'll be ready to go the distance, but I don't intend to go 15 rounds if I don't have to."

Brown, who won the title against Wallace (Bud) Smith here in August 1956, might have good reason for caution after watching the "new" Dupas take Fuentes into town.

Dupas, rated the division's No. 2 contender by the National Boxing Assn. and third by Ring magazine, had a crowd of 4,237 screaming as he peppered Fuentes with a staccato left and unveiled an unusually effective and accurate right hand. The decision was unanimous with all three officials giving Dupas a wide margin.

Brown said Dupas is fast, both afoot and with his hands, but dismissed the New Orleans challenger's attacking power with an observation that "he slaps more than he punches."

Eichhorns Meet Groves In Finals At Lonaconing

Season-champion Eichhorns and Groves shot their way to the finals in the Lonaconing City Bowling League by eliminating White Way Inn and Stakems in the best-of-seven games semifinals.

Eichhorns needed only six games to kazo White Way Inn, four to two, while Groves went the limit in beating Stakems, four games to three.

Eichhorns and Groves will meet in the best-of-seven games finals this Friday.

Peden Warnick paced Eichhorns with a top game of 205 and 1,025 set. Jim Foults was tops for White Way with a 202 game and 1,063 totals. John Brode's 184 and 1,151 were high for Stakems with the Bill "Sap" Truly posting a 187 and 1,093 for Groves.

White Way lopped Eichhorns in total pins with 4,635 to 4,507. Stakems also knocked over more maps than Groves, spilling 5,146 to 5,046. White Way had top game with an 852. Summary:

McDaniel Brothers Appear Ready To Spark Card Drive

By FRED DE LUCA

INS Sports Writer

The sweet-throwing McDaniel brothers, who very nearly sparked St. Louis to the 1957 pennant, look ready to help the Cardinals on another spirited flag bid.

The sensational Hollis, Okla., righthanders had a combined record of 22 wins and 14 defeats for the second-place Redbirds in 1957.

Lindy, the family graybeard at 22, and young Von, who will be 19 a week from tomorrow, were brilliant yesterday as the Cards blanked the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 0, at Oklahoma City.

The Sox managed five hits—four off Lindy in seven innings, none off Von and one off Herm Wehmeier in the ninth. The Cards batted Jim Wilson and two relievers for 13 hits. The big blow was a three-run homer by a new, as well as old, Card, Ray Katt.

A far more lop-sided game was played at Greenville, S. C., where a six-homer barrage produced 16 of the 20 runs.

The Yanks started slowly with two runs in the first inning, then added three, five, three and four before being blanked in the sixth and seventh. Three more runs came across in the eighth.

Bill Skowron hit two homers, both off starter Curt Simmons, good for five runs. He has 10 homers, 27 runs-batted-in and a .406 batting average this spring.

Mickey Mantle was five-for-five including a two-run homer and three doubles.

Don Larsen went the first six for New York and Rine Duren cleaned up.

The Yankees lost the services for three or four weeks of outfielder Harry Simpson, who received a slight fracture of the right wrist when he caught a Simmons pitch in the fourth inning.

Pirates Beat Red Sox
San Francisco whitewashed Cleveland, 7 to 0, at Austin, Texas. Johnny Antonelli and Paul Giel combined for the Giants to six-hit the Indians. Willie Kirkland hit a three-run homer off Ray Narleski. Willie has hit eight homers, all in last two and one-half weeks.

Hank Aaron homered for one run and drove in the tie-breaker with a sacrifice fly as Milwaukee's world champions downed Los Angeles, 3 to 2, at Houston.

Warren Spahn, usually pushed around by the Dodgers blanked them over the first five innings. Pittsburgh beat Boston, 4 to 2, at Fort Myers. Fla., with Ron Kline going the distance for the

NBA Franchise Stays In Cincinnati

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second time in two years, the Rochester Royals franchise in the National Basketball Assn. has become the Cincinnati Royals.

Puzzled? Last year, Lester and Jack Harrison moved from Rochester to Cincinnati. Last month, they sold back the franchise to Norman Shapiro, a Rochester business executive.

But the league owners met last night and refused to approve the sale. Instead, they permitted the season's games.

After they approved the introduction of a Cincinnati real estate man. So the franchise is back in Cincinnati and Shapiro is annoyed at NBA president Maurice Podoloff's close to 3 a.m. with the announcement that Minneapolis would remain in the league at least another year.

Winning Coach
In his first ten years as West Virginia's baseball coach, Steve Harrick maintained a 62.3 percent winning record and only once, on a rain-curtailed 1953 schedule, won fewer than half the games.

Higgins Says Ted To Start Opening Day

SARASOTA, Fla.—(INS)—Ted Williams, who is usually in the middle of some sort of controversy, has never been known to argue with umpires when it comes to balls and strikes.

The big Red Sox slugger's reasoning on this angle to hitting is hard to dispute.

And there is an "angle," of course. Anything Ted does with a bat in his hand has a sound reason.

"It spoils your concentration when you argue with an umpire," Ted says. "Besides, if you study the umpires you will learn what each considers to be the strike zone."

"It may not agree with your ideas on the subject, but if you know the ump's ideas, you know what to expect and you can guard against it."

Higgins Not Worried

News concerning Williams has been scarce this spring, being limited mostly to medical bulletins concerning a chipped bone in his left ankle and a pulled muscle in his side which have prevented him from playing in exhibition games.

Injuries to Williams have been so frequent that, despite the outfielder's 39 years, manager Mike Higgins refuses to view the situation with alarm.

"Ted has been around long enough to know how to train," Mike says. "Neither of his injuries is serious. At least they're not when compared to his past injuries."

"We expect he will be in the opening lineup when the season starts. It is possible that Ted will need warm weather up north before he is ready, but that is something that only time will tell."

Stephens Ready

Higgins, of course, has Gene Stephens ready to take Ted's place, which could be one reason why he refuses to worry. Gene currently is hitting above .360 in exhibition games.

Gene is not likely to hit .388 as Ted did last season, but how many players can be expected to slug like that?

Williams has been working out daily. His side bothers him when he takes a full swing at the ball and his ankle pains when he puts pressure on it starting or stopping suddenly or making fast turns.

Trainer Jack Fadden reports both injuries will clear up so long as Ted doesn't try to rush things. Williams, himself, expressed concern early in March, but lately appears to be treating his disabilities as mere irritants.

At 39, an athlete more or less expects aches and pains.

Keyser Nine Plays Southern In Opening Tilt Tomorrow

With two holdover hurlers and three .300-plus hitters, Keyser High's baseball team opens its 1958 Potomac Valley Conference season tomorrow by playing Southern of Oakland on the Golden Tornado diamond.

Giants To Give Foes 'Willies'

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—The San Francisco Giants will give opposing pitchers the Willies just like Manager Bill Rigney hoped before the spring baseball training began.

No doubt existed that Willie Mays would be there. Hopes were that Willie Kirkland would make the grade as the right fielder for Mays continuing in center.

In the hitting department, Mays would hold the No. 3 spot he likes, with Kirkland in No. 4. Rigney felt that with power in the cleanup spot, pitchers would have to give Mays more good balls.

Then, in the midst of this happy thinking, Kirkland showed up in spring camp 12 pounds overweight, caught the flu and didn't look impressive.

Finally, playing down in a "B" team affair, he broke things up with a bases-loaded homer in the ninth and he's come fast with the stick since then.

Yesterday, the left-handed hitting, 24-year-old Negro belted his eighth home run of the spring exhibition season—not including that starter in "B" competition. His smash came off Cleveland's Ray Narleski, a veteran major league hurler, as the Giants won 7-0 at Austin behind the pitching of Johnny Antonelli and Paul Giel.

The 1957 New York Yankees set a record when they won 21 out of 22 games from the St. Louis Browns.

Birds, Phillies Lack Stuff To Finish Higher

This is the fourth in a series of eight articles containing capsule previews on the pennant outlook of the 16 major league teams.

By HOWARD SIGMUND
INS Sports Writer

Baltimore Orioles

The Baltimore Orioles just missed the first division by a whisker in 1957, but this time around the margin may be greater.

Paul Richards claims he has strengthened the team with trades and predicts a high finish, and this may be true. The other American League contenders, however, seem to have gained more during the winter.

A rundown of the Baltimore roster reveals:
Catching — Gus Triandos and Joe Ginsberg give Birds good backstopping.

Pitching — Connie Johnson is the No. 1 man and Richards is counting on Billy Loes, Ken Lehman, Bill O'Dell, Skinny Brown, George Zuverink, Bud Daley, Jack Harshman and Art Houtteman among others.

Infield — Lacks solid hitting on left side. Bobby Boyd is first baseman and Billy Gardner will play second. Weak-hitting Willie Miranda is the likely shortstop. Third base a tossup among Brooks Robinson, Foster Castleman, Eddie Miksis and Dick Williams, who also is an outfielder.

Outfield — Gene Woodling, Bob Nieman, Al Pilecki, Jim Busby and Williams give Richards a talented outfield which he can platoon.

Consensus: Sixth place.

Philadelphia Phillies

Philadelphia's pitch - strong Phillies appear to have too many problems to better their fifth-place finish of last season.

Manager Mayo Smith has a combination of youthful and veteran talent that promises to cause trouble. But the Phils seem to lack the explosive power and depth.

A roster rundown discloses:
Catching — If Stan Lopata's damaged knee is healed, the Phillies have a topflight first string catcher.

Pitching — A possible bright spot for Smith, especially if Robin Roberts can regain his winning form. There's rookie-of-the-year Jack Sanford, Curt Simmons, Don Cardwell, Jack Meyer, Warren Hacker, Dick Farrell, Jim Hearn and Seth Morehead.

Infield — Crisis at first base. Phils hope Joe Collins "unretires" and may have to use rookie Frank Herrerra at the spot. Chico Fernandez at short and Granny Hamner at second with Willie Jones probably back at third again. Ted Kazanski, Solly Hemus and Roy Smalley ready to step in and play.

Outfield — Wally Post may add the long ball to an outfield that includes Richie Ashburn, Rip Repulski, Harry Anderson, Dave Philley and Bob Bowman.

Consensus: Sixth place.

Risen, Nichols Hold Celt Key, Russell Finished

BOSTON (AP)—Arnie Risen and Jack Nichols—a pair of veterans closing out their playing careers—hold keys to Boston playoff hopes now that teammate Bill Russell has been ruled out of further action.

The defending champion Celtics meet St. Louis here tomorrow night in the National Basketball Assn. championship series deadlocked 2-2.

Russell was told he is out of the remainder of the best-of-seven competition because of two torn tendons and a small chip fracture in his sprained right ankle.

Risen, the 6-9 thin man, and Nichols, who will graduate from the Tufts University Dental School this June, have got to take up the slack. Russell hauled in 69 rebounds and scored 50 points in his two and a fraction games against St. Louis.

Boston defeated St. Louis 109-98 Saturday night without Russell and with 6-1 Bob Cousy playing much of the time in the pivot (24 points, 13 rebounds).

Cage Points Show Sharpest Decline In History In 1958

NEW YORK (AP)—College basketball scoring the past season underwent its sharpest decline in the 66-year history of the game.

This was revealed today with the release of final statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau. The figures showed a five per cent drop in point production.

The 4,149 major college games in 1957-1958 produced an average of 126.9 points a game compared to 144.0 average last season. The drop is attributed entirely to less free throws since the average number of field goals a game (51.6) was identical to last season's figure.

Marshall was the nation's offensive leader with an average of 88.0 points a game. San Francisco was tops in defense with an average yield of 50.5 points. Oklahoma State led in free throw percentage (.791); Cincinnati in field goal percentage (.430); Manhattan in rebounds (.591); Southern Methodist in the fewest personals (11.6) and Missouri in most personal fouls (22.9).

West Virginia was second in offense with an 86.9 average per game.

Chesapeake Trial Next For Laurel

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—John S. Kelly's Deack Duncan, winner of the Governor's Gold Cup, heads a field of a dozen 3-year-olds expected to compete in the $10,000-added Chesapeake Trial here Saturday.

The six-furlong test, considered a prep for the $20,000-added Chesapeake Stakes April 19, will find Mill River Stable's Washington in the race against Deack Duncan, along with Melvin Schlossberg's Lord Gregor.

Deack Duncan defeated Washington in the Gold Cup, when Washington didn't care for the sloppy track and finished second. Lord Gregor, also beaten by Deack Duncan in a mile and a sixteenth allowance event, had his best race this season in his 1958 debut when he took the measure of Washington in a stretch battle.

Other contenders in the probable field are Mrs. J. Bowes Bond's Pancho Villa, Brookfield Farms' I've Got Rhythm and William Hal Bishop's Pemberton.

Chicago Duo Takes Lead In ABC Doubles

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (INS)—Ed Snyder and Joe Christ of Chicago have taken over leadership in the doubles competition of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Snyder's 825 and Christ's 634 last night added up to 1,279, which surpassed the total of 1,267 registered six days ago by Sam Walker Jr., and Bob Schaefer, both of Canandaigua, N. Y.

John Alderton To Play End For Terp Grads Saturday

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A bruising bunch of former University of Maryland football players will bump heads with the varsity in Saturday's annual alumni-varsity contest.

The lineup of ex-Maryland stars is expected to include 28 who have played or are still playing professional football, and many are big names in the National Professional Football League.

Backfield power for the alumni will come from fullbacks Ed (Big Mo) Modzelewski of the Cleveland Browns, Dick Bielski of the Philadelphia Eagles, Ralph Felton of the Washington Redskins; quarterback Bernie Falo; John Alderton; halfbacks Ronnie Waller, Los Angeles Rams, Chet Hanu-lak, Browns, Ed Vereb, Van-couver, Dick Nolan, New York Giants, and Howie Dare, Green Bay Packers.

Former All America Bob Pel-letgrin, now of the Eagles, heads the alumni at center with three others including the Baltimore Colts' Tom Cosgrove in reserve. Among the tackles will be Stan Jones of the Chicago Bears and AP and UP third teams.

Ends will include John Alderton of Cumberland who formerly played with the Pittsburgh Steelers and in the Canadian League, and Lloyd Coltervahn of the Colts, and three others. Pete Ladygo of the Steelers and Ottawa and Jack Davis of Hamilton, Canada, will hold down the guard posts.

Jack Scarbath, ex-All America now an assistant coach at South Carolina, has helped pass the alumni to victory in three previous games at Byrd Stadium against the varsity. But this time he'll be on the sidelines as a scout.

All-Americans At WVU
Center Lloyd Sharrar and sophomore forward Jerry West won 1958 All-America recognition for West Virginia in basketball. Sharrar made the Associated Press second team, United Press and Coaches Association third teams. West was named to the Helms Foundation second team and AP and UP third teams.

Hundley Ailing, Stars Routed

HUNTINGTON (AP)—Ex-Marshall basketball stars led by hustlin' Ilat Greer pounced on a listless team of former West Virginia University players in an exhibition game at Memorial Field House last night. The Marshalls, never headed, won 96-74. Greer got 40 points.

Led by former All-America Rod Hundley, the Mountaineers had won seven games in a row in their barnstorming tour before coming here. But Hundley, saying he had the flu, sat out all but a few minutes of the contest.

Greer, who graduated this spring, hardly missed. Behind him in the Marshall scoring were Carl York with 16, Cebe Price with 15 and Charlie Slack with 10.

Hundley's all-stars were paced by Joey Gardner of this year's national championship team and former WVU standout Clayce Kishbaugh with 23 and 21 points, respectively.

Canadiens And Bruins Open Title Set Today

MONTREAL (INS)—Montreal's powerful Canadiens, overwhelming favorites at 5-to-1, go after their third straight Stanley Cup tonight when they meet the Boston Bruins in the opener of a best-of-seven series.

The Canadiens, in addition to being long-sided choices to take the series, are 3-to-1 picks to win the first game at the Forum.

The same two teams met in the finals last year with the Canadiens taking the cup in five games.

Irish Nose Out West Virginia On Late Rally

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Battered West Virginia University played Wisconsin for a second time today in the Florida State Invitational Baseball Tournament here after losing its first three tournament games.

Notre Dame administered the latest licking, 6-4, yesterday. Joe Geneser socked a triple which provided the key blow in the Irish's three-run ninth inning.

Florida State cemented its grip on first place in the tournament standings. The host nine beat Wisconsin, 7-3, yesterday for its third straight victory.

West Virginia defeated Georgia State Teachers College, 9-7, en route here to open its season. However, the Mountaineers lost a 6-1 game to Wisconsin and were trimmed by Florida State, 14-7. WVU meets Florida State again Wednesday and completes its tournament activity against Notre Dame again on Thursday.

The Mountaineers took a 4-3 lead over Notre Dame in the fifth inning when Wayne Austin slapped a 350-foot home run with a man on base.

Geneser's triple came after three bases on balls and West Virginia errors. The victory was Notre Dame's second against one loss in the tournament.

DiBiase Easily Defeats Schmidt

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony DiBiase won in a breeze over Peter Schmidt in their return fight last night.

The breeze was stirred up by anxious Peter's wild swings. His many misses — 22 of them in the ninth round alone — proved the difference in a fight that had the officials divided.

Judges Tony Castellano (6-4) and Bert Grant (5-4-1) had DiBiase the winner. Referee Barney Felix had Schmidt ahead 5-4-1. The AP card had DiBiase in front 6-4. A poll of ring-side writers showed a 7-2 vote for DiBiase.

Terps Drop Fifth In Row

By The Associated Press

Duke's defending Atlantic Coast Conference baseball champions get a chance today to outshine Clemson and North Carolina State atop the league standings.

All three are undefeated within the ACC. Duke and Clemson with 2-0 marks and N. C. State's Wolfpack with 1-0.

The Blue Devils, who pulled abreast of idle Clemson with a 4-3 win over a slugging Maryland club yesterday, play host to Virginia's Cavaliers in the only game to count in the league standings.

Other contests pit Clemson and North Carolina's Tar Heels against outsiders Georgia Tech and Georgia, respectively. Wake Forest goes to South Carolina in an "extra" game that won't register in ACC standings.

The Wolfpack, in its first league encounter, downed winless Virginia 3-5 yesterday for its fifth victory against no losses.

The Blue Devils ran into hitting trouble in beating Maryland 4-3. The Terps got to ace southpaw Dick Smallwood for 10 hits but Duke knitted its eight hits in three frames for the victory, scoring in the first, twice again in the fourth and once more in the seventh.

Maryland is 0-2 in the ACC and 0-5 overall, while Duke is 3-6 overall.

Parkersburg Stars Enroll At Marshall

HUNTINGTON (AP)—Six-foot-six Dick Wildt and playmaker Larry Barnes of the strong Parkersburg Catholic High School basketball team announced last night that they would enroll at Marshall College next fall.

Herzog Likely To Beat Out Albie Pearson

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—The much heralded Albie Pearson probably won't be Washington's starting center fielder when the Nats open against the Boston Red Sox next Monday.

The half pint star of the Pacific Coast League last year was picked by the Sporting News yesterday as prospective rookie of the year in the American League.

But after a fine start in spring training Pearson's hitting has leveled off recently and his present average is .234. In contrast Whitey Herzog, another bidder for the center field post, is batting .337.

As a result, Manager Cookie Lavagetto has indicated Herzog is likely to get the starting nod for the season's opener.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Casey Stengel planned to start Whitey Ford as the New York Yankees met the Philadelphia Phillies today in an exhibition game here, and indicated his four starting pitchers were ready for the season.

The Yankee manager is expected to give Don Larsen the opening day pitching assignment against the Red Sox at Boston next Tuesday. Larsen pitched four hit balls as he went seven innings against the Phillies yesterday and walked three. New York belted 21 hits and won 20-1 in the game at Greenville, S. C.

Stengel said he believed Ford, Bobby Shantz and Tom Sturdivant also, were capable of going the route right now.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Ray Katt, who is back for his second round with the St. Louis Cardinals as a catcher, looked promising yesterday with his three-run homer which spelled the beginning of the end in a 2-0 Cardinal defeat of the Chicago White Sox.

Katt was acquired five days ago from the San Francisco Giants for outfielder Jim King.

He was traded to the Cubs for Hobie Landrith two years ago because the then Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane wanted left-handed hitting behind the plate.

During his brief stay with the Red Birds Katt hit six homers and batted .260 in 47 games.

MEXICO CITY, Mex. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates open a three-game exhibition series tonight against Mexico City of the Class AA Mexican League.

Manager Danny Murtaugh has slated left-hander Bob Smith to do the pitching. Murtaugh instructed Smith to go as far as he can.

Mexico City is an affiliate of the Pirates. After this series the Pirates wind up the exhibition grind with two games against Columbus, their triple-A International League affiliate.

Floyd May Defend Title In May Or June

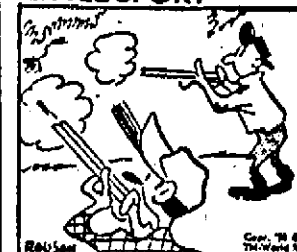

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Baltimore Orioles' rookie Bert Barth who has shown promise both as a pitcher and a hitter is going to be a pitcher — at least for the start of the 1958 season.

Manager Paul Richards decided yesterday to farm out the 6-foot-3, 215-pound Barth as a pitcher. Last year Barth played first base for Fitzgerald, Ga., in Class D and batted .332 in 80 games.

"He could develop into a great pitcher with the kind of stuff he has," Richards said. "Of course, the way we're always looking for power, you hate to give up on him as a hitter, but if we don't let him work on one or the other, chances are he won't improve the way he should."

The Orioles had a 2-0 lead in the second inning yesterday when rain and hail forced cancellation of their game with the Cubs.

Gene Fullmer Fighting Off 'Kidney Cold'

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer today fought a kidney infection that has disrupted his training for a bout May 2 in Louisville, Ky.

Fullmer, still hoping to land a shot at S u g a r Ray Robinson's well-worn middleweight crown, will clash with Frank Suzina of Germany in a 10-rounder billed as part of the Kentucky Derby program.

"He'll probably be okay in a day or so," said manager Marv Jensen of nearby West Jordan, Utah. He said Fullmer had caught a bad cold that doctors say settled in his kidneys.

Jensen said despite recent cold shoulders from Robinson's camp he still has hopes of lining up a title fight for Fullmer, the second ranking middleweight.

"I'm planning to go down to Miami, Florida, to see Jim Norris next week," Norris is president of the International Boxing Club which Jensen said has promised Fullmer the next title fight. Jensen has threatened to file suit against the IBC if it doesn't live up to the agreement.

"I'm just holding it up now in hopes that we can come to some terms," Jensen said.

Robinson hasn't given the Fullmer camp much encouragement since he regained the crown from Carmen Basilio. He brushed off a $100,000 offer to fight Fullmer at either Salt Lake City or Ogden, Utah.

Robinson's handlers told Ogden promoters that it would take a million-dollar gate to lure the Harlem dandy to Utah.

Jensen said the fight with Suzina was lined up to keep Fullmer in trim. "We'll just keep Gene busy for a little bit. He'll start hard training for the Louisville fight next Monday," Jensen said.

"We have an agreement with the IBC for the next title fight and we hope to get it."

The club house has taken on a new look, no more crowding at the entrance where one will alight from his car onto the new patio, overlooking the paddock area. This idea in streamlining has been successfully carried out at several major tracks.

DENVER — (INS) — Boniface S. Gamino, 25, of Denver was arrested recently on charges of drunk driving, reckless driving, driving on the wrong side of the road and . . . destroying city property.

The latter charge involves crashing head-on with another vehicle while driving on the wrong side of the road.

The other vehicle was a police patrol car.

Machen Showing More Confidence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Confident Eddie Machen today promised fight fans a more aggressive No. 1 heavyweight contender when he fights No. 2 ranked Zora Folley tomorrow night in a television 12-rounder.

"If you're going for the title you got to be aggressive," said Machen, undefeated in 24 fights. He has 16 knockouts.

Critics, including Joe Louis, have chided Machen for his lack of fire and killer instinct. So the 25-year-old Redding, Calif., boxer says a change will be made.

"A fighter can't change his whole style but I'm trying . . . just going forward and punching rather than go back."

Machen is a 2-1 favorite. Folley, of Chandler, Ariz., contends an experienced fighter like Machen can't switch from counter-puncher to aggressor. "A fighter can't change styles for one fight," he argues.

Folley, 26, has a 39-2-1 record, with 25 knockouts.

Folley's plan of attack calls for "a knockout in the early rounds and then go for a decision if necessary."

KEWANEE, Ill. (AP)—The next time James L. Krause poses his registered Holstein bull for pictures, he'll stay clear of the consequences.

He landed in the Kewanee Hospital with two fractured ribs and internal injuries when photographer Richard Ogorzalek attempted to take the bull's picture.

The bull battered Krause against the barn in the first attempt, but he rolled with the blow on the second charge. Before he was attacked again

Ogorzalek grabbed the bull's nose ring and another man helped force the bull back in the barn.

Capital News Coverage To Be Scanned

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (INS)—Believing that nearly everybody is fascinated by the reporting and dissemination of the news, Wide World (NBC-TV) city editor always retired to the will visit Washington next Sunday, men's room, muttering about to examine working newsmen and a trained seal.

There's a bit of the ham in the organization.

Producer Ted Rogers says the everybody, but it's a mighty thin program. "Headline City," will slice in today's ablest newsmen. "Show viewers just what it means. Dorens of them demonstrate this to be a working newsmen in the frequently on television.

There was a time when the average profession and he insists that age newspaper city room was as others' treat it with respect. In sacrosanct as a hospital operating general, with the exception of a room. But no more. Now some few half-baked entertainment proven contain glassed observation grams, the medium of television booths for visitors.

There's one man I wish was still gathering without distortion. Probable to view next Sunday's probably that's because television is a gram and grumble and short at news medium itself.

This invasion of a newsmen's pri. As a result, today's serious vary. He was my city editor on a newsmen have far greater respect

Optimist To Hold Meeting Tomorrow

There will be no formal program tomorrow evening when the Optimist Club of Cumberland meets at 6:15 in Central YMCA. The board will convene at the home of Lee Hudson following the regular meeting.

Custody Action To Get Review

CHARLESTON (INS)—The Supreme Court yesterday granted review of a McDowell County order awarding custody of two children to their father.

Mary Jane Cantrell sought the review from the order awarding custody of Ronald Cantrell, 4, and Deborah Ann Cantrell, 2, to Noah Cantrell.

The lower court order same is a habeas corpus proceeding instituted by Cantrell. The couple is divorced. He brought the action to regain custody of the children.

Quiz Show Seen Aiding Arrival Of Pay-Television

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK (INS)—The other day, upon reviewing another in the endless chain of foolishness called "audience participation" shows, meaning any quiz into which someone from the studio is lured, or someone recruited furiously by the show's management, or in which the viewers at home may have a chance at winning some outrageous sum of money, we ended our opinion with the frank suspicion that this way lies madness, and that pay-TV should have a cinch to sneak in under these idiotic circumstances.

That conclusion, written alone in the noisiness of our lovely room, happened to coincide with several other similar critiques which ended with that same firm suspicion that pay-TV might indeed make capital of such nonsense.

Of course, quiz shows and audience upsidaying have been boring through radio and TV for many years, but enough's enough!

It finally has reached the point of no return. The industry owes itself the luxury of not being proclaimed the loser in one huge quiz show to which subscription TV alone will have the answer — pure entertainment, uncluttered shows remain low. That's one point.

Another is something nearer, subliminal advertising than most viewers realize.

The very format of all quiz shows permits a very simple gimmick to be utilized. This is the posting of the sponsor's product's name wherever a camera might wander: Should it be toward the moderator's desk, there stands the name of the sponsor's product, silently being sold 30 minutes of the half-hour; or, we should say, 29 minutes of the 30, (Continued on Page 18)

Hall Of Fame Site For Agriculture Sci

WASHINGTON (INS)—The National Grange has offered part of its national shrine, the Kelley Farm in Minnesota, as a site for a hall of fame for agriculture.

The Grange farm was the home of Oliver Hudson Kelley, who founded the farm organization in 1867.

West Virginia Korea Bonus Payment Lags

CHARLESTON (INS)—West Virginia is on the downhill side of the task of paying bonuses to its veterans of the Korean War.

By noon today, the Department of Veterans Affairs will have completed initial processing of all of the approximately 74,000 claims received.

It will have written some 54,000 bonus checks and will have a backlog of several thousand other claims cleared for payment and moving through the check-writing process. The 74,000 also include about 14,000 irregular claims which take longer to reach payment stage.

The irregulars are claims which must be held up pending receipt of additional information, either from the veteran or one of the armed services.

Latest date through which exact figures have been compiled is last Friday. Through that date, the department had written 52,768 bonus checks, averaging $258.86, and totaling $13,659,387.

Veterans Affairs Director C. S. Collier Jr. said the processing is 2½ months ahead of schedule. Incoming claims have dropped to a trickle of probably less than 200 a week, he added.

Collier said the department is releasing personnel as rapidly as is consistent with efficiency. About 10 persons were cut off in February and March and further reduction is planned soon.

Former West Virginians now living in other states or still in military service account for 41½ per cent of all the claims received to date. Collier said this high percentage of out-of-state claims has not been approached in the bonus experience of any other state.

So far the state has issued 20½ million dollars worth of bonds to finance the program. The treasurer's office is hopeful the amount will be enough to complete the program, although this is not yet certain.

There is constitutional authority for issuance of an additional two million dollars worth of bonds if necessary.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I will leave it up to you. My wife and I are average people in moderate circumstances and we have this one son who is 16 years old. He is the apple of my wife's eye but I think she is doing him more harm than good by sneaking money to him behind my back. He has an allowance which is more than plenty for a boy his age, but he is always broke. My wife has admitted slipping him money (she calls it an "advance") on his allowance, but he never pays it back so what would YOU call it? I think she is wrong. Please print this as she might listen to you. I am through popping with her.

POP

DEAR POP: If your son gets an allowance, he should manage to live within it. The apple of your wife's eye could turn out to be a lemon if she doesn't let him struggle along without any money until he learns how to handle it.

DEAR ABBY: My girl friends and I were talking things over and want to know your opinion. When do you think a girl should start a hope chest? GLORIA

DEAR GLORIA: As soon as she has "hope."

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. It isn't as bad as most I see in your column but it is bad enough to ask advice on. My wife and I have been married 3 years and we live alone in our own apartment and are very happy. The only fight we have is over her calling me up at work. If it was important I wouldn't care, but she calls me up for no reason at all. I get kicks from my boss and it makes me feel cheap. Please tell me how I can break her of this habit? LOUIE

DEAR LOUIE: Your little woman apparently hasn't got enough to keep her busy and she's lonesome. How about planning a little parenthood?

DEAR ABBY: Just who is supposed to clean out the garage and basement? My husband says it is MY job, but I say it is HIS job. Please settle this for us? DOROTHY AND ART

DEAR D AND A: It's BOTH your jobs . . . requiring his brawn (to move the stuff) and your brain to make the decisions (what stays and what goes). Many hands (and heads) make light work.

CONFIDENTIAL to Lew The Lawyer: Take the legal fee. She sounds like an attractive nuisance.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Building Activity In County Takes March Upswing

Building activity in Allegany County took a decided upswing in March when 41 building permits for construction estimated to cost a total of $303,475 were issued by the county assessing department.

That was the heaviest March building permit activity in the four years that a tabulation has been made on permits for construction in the unincorporated areas of the county.

In March 1957 there were 34 permits issued for construction estimated to cost a total of $207,500.

The three-month total this year includes 62 permits for construction estimated to cost a total of $405,700. Last year the three-month totals were 68 permits for construction costing $2,365,475.

However, the bulk of that total was the January permit issued for a proposed Winchester Road shopping center costing $2,000,000, which has not been built. De-ducating that permit, 1958 has a better record than 1957.

Of the 41 March permits, 16 were for construction in Election District 29 at LaVale. Other election districts with more than one March permit include District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, six permits; District 5, North End sub-urban, and District 6, West Side suburban, three each; District 3, Flintstone; District 20, Corriganville; District 23, East Side sub-urban, two each.

There were single permits for construction in Election Districts 2, Oldtown; 11, Frostburg sub-urban; 16, North Branch; 22, East Side suburban; 24, Eckhart; 31, McCoolle, and 33, Kifer.

Biggest individual builder during March was Ralph G. Cover, who obtained permits for nine new homes in Coverwood, Elec-tion District 28, costing a total of $147,500, nearly half of the monthly total.

The March permits authorized construction of 27 new dwellings, three new garages, two new dwellings and garages, one shed, one dwelling addition, one equip-ment company addition, one porch addition, one garage and apartment, one addition to ware-room, one barn, one storage building and one cabin.

Named to the catalog commit-tee were Mrs. Harold Meek, chairman, Mrs. Martha Nickel, co-chairman and Miss Sarah Rennie, chairman of the Junior Kennel Club which will assist with the show.

George Miller will be chairman of the grounds committee, Frank Urbas, co-chairman, Francis Mehle, Walter Derlan, Harold Meek and Arthur Neder mem-bers. Mrs. June Nader heads the entertainment committee with Mrs. Millie Derlan co-chairman and Mrs. Frances Mehle and Miss Helen Pritchard members.

Mrs. George Miller will be club nurse and Dr. C. N. Foote Jr., veterinarian.

Deer Season December 1-6

CHARLESTON (AP) - All counties south of U. S. 60 and the Northern Panhandle counties of Brooke, Hancock and Ohio will be closed to deer hunting this year, the Conservation Commission an-nounced yesterday.

The commission completed in-clusive dates and regulations for the 1958 firearms deer season at a meeting here, with 39 counties to have a six-day season, Dec. 1-6. Deer hunting will be limited to bucks only during the entire season in

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. For Wednesday, April 8, 1953.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Be selective the right way. This does not mean to be aloof or "cold," but to choose activities as well as companions thoughtfully. There is so much good not to be missed with time-wasters.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Some exceptionally fine Venus vibrations to spur you on. Don't be hampered by doubt or trivialities and stubborn tendencies. Look ahead; don't listen to sound.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Giving of your talents and enthusiasm helps keep you people alive and tremendously useful to your own personality and to others about you. So have no qualms about trying anything new of worth.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—As we get older, we either deepen our faults, or, if we have been living on the higher plane, we have been correcting them, strengthening our character. This day calls for reviewing.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—You can do a lot of good this day. You are a dawdler, a likely temptation, so know it. Start early by coordinating plans, ideas. Give everyone else a push, too.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Under planet Mercury's fine aspect you should step up tempo, increase interest first in your duties and obligations, next in the many civil and outside activities that need aid.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Doing things systematically and efficiently are inherent in this practical and idealistic and roundly-tempered sign. Live up to that expectation of you and you will go far, be truly happy.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Give sufficient time to those affairs that deserve your attention. Know your duties, pay heed to them before getting into others. Various influences offer assistance.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Jupiter's auspicious aspect of yesterday still strong. Ascertain carefully what are first procedures and take all in proper order. Be patient for best results.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn)—Now take care, in bringing about results, that accuracy and truth remain unimpaired. Hasten to reach conclusions can harm, cause a loss of anything. Start and finish early, you can.

JANUARY 24 to FEBRUARY 23 (Aquarius)—Maintenance and delineation work can fare very well, as can aeronautics, electronics, aviation, Real estate, some departments of the manufacturing and retailing fields, pick up. Use your foresight.

FEBRUARY 24 to MARCH 23 (Pisces)—Neptune in strong favorable configuration. Matters of exceptional nature, development, science, solving problems, can reach new heights. Sympathy, understanding make fresh gains.

YOU BORN TODAY? This sign is noted for its dauntless courage, sturdy independence and ability to see affairs through to a successful conclusion, no matter the odds. Many Aries natives are at the top of the lists of large, progressive enterprises; are outstanding military leaders and government officials of integrity who truly aid their people. You value esteem and freedom from want. If living true to form you will go on to new successes the older you grow. Just be careful in your progressive pattern not to overlook tolerance, forbearance in judging others' opinions and customs, and not to overdo. Birthdate of Charles Baudelaire, French poet.

Soviets Thanked For Halting Tests

HIROSHIMA, Japan (INS)—Two Japanese high school girls from atom-bombed Hiroshima have written letters to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the Russian people thanking them for the announcement that Russia will suspend its nuclear test.

One of the girls is Ritsuko Sawada, 17, whose mother died of cancer caused by atomic radiation. The other is Kiyo Okura, 17, who lost a friend to radiation-caused cancer.

The girls, both of Hiroshima's Commercial Senior High School, said in their letters they hope the U. S. and Britain will follow Moscow's lead.

Gerber Bid Aids To Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Gerber convention is named after its inventor, John Gerber of Houston. It is similar to the Blackwood convention except that it uses the bid of four clubs to ask for aces.

It has one great advantage. You can ask for aces without getting past game. Its disadvantage is that four clubs is like:

NORTH (D) 3
♥ KQJ3
♦ AKQJ1087
♣ J

WEST ♠ A Q 8 4
♦ 8 5 3
♣ K 9 7 2

EAST ♠ K J 10 2
♥ 9 8 5
♦ 6 4
♣ Q 10 8 4

SOUTH ♠ 7 5 3
♥ A 10 8 4
♣ A 8 5 3

East and West vulnerable
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
Opening lead—♠ A ly to be valuable as a normal bid. Most experts get around this by playing Blackwood normally and Gerber when it is obvious.

Take today's North hand. You open one diamond and your partner responds one heart. If he has two blank aces you have a slam. If he has no aces you can only make four hearts. Blackwood jeopardizes game. Gerber doesn't.

Charles Solomon, president of the ACBL sat North at the Mid-South Regionals in Jackson. His partner was Bernard Tighe, president of the Mid-South Conference.

They were playing for the first time and had not agreed to play Gerber but Charlie took a chance that his partner would recognize four clubs as a Gerber bid.

Bernard got the message and did bid four spades to show his two aces. In Gerber four diamonds shows no aces, etc.

Now Charlie had no qualms about bidding six hearts and they were one of the few teams in the room to reach the lay-down slam.

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♥ Double ?
You, South, hold:
♠ K J 2 ♥ 3 ♦ Q J 10 ♣ A J 10 9 8 7
What do you do?
A—Bid one no-trump. This should be much better than one heart.

TODAY'S QUESTION
West passes, your partner bids two clubs and East bids two hearts. What do you do?
Answer Tomorrow

Japs Approve Oil Payments

TOKYO, (Tuesday)—(INS)—The Japanese government today approved payment of 1.5 million dollars in rentals to Saudi Arabia for offshore oil development in the Saudi Arabia-Kuwait neutral zone.

Payment had been delayed because the Japan Petroleum Trading Company, which negotiated the rights with Saudi Arabia, has not yet concluded a similar agreement with Kuwait.

It was reported the government approved payment of the rental now because it was feared the Saudi government might scrap the agreement.

The agreement is a controversial one under which the Japan Petroleum Company is to give Saudi Arabia and Kuwait 56 per cent of its profits, including retail sales, in return for development rights.

At present some of the world's leading oil firms have agreements to give 50 per cent of profits, not including retail profits, for drilling rights.

The Spaniards settled Santa Fe, N.M., in 1609.

Squib Wilson To Seek Seat In U. S. Senate

FAIRMONT — Wilford R. (Squib) Wilson, better known in West Virginia athletic circles than for his debut in politics with the 53rd Legislature, said he will seek the Democratic nomination for the unexpired U.S. Senate term of the late M.M. Neely.

"I am no politician and never expect to be one," Wilson said in a statement Monday. "But with God's help and the interest and votes of the people of West Virginia, it is my ambition to serve them as a statesman in the United States Senate."

Wilson, athletic director of Fairmont State College, was elected to the House of Delegates from Marion County in 1956. He said he has mailed his certificate of candidacy to the secretary of state in Charleston.

Others seeking the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 5 primary are former Gov. William C. Marland of Charleston, former Congressman Jennings Randolph of Elkins and one-time State Senate President Arnold Vickers of Montgometry.

Gov. Underwood named John D. Hoblitzell Jr. of Ravenswood to the seat held by Neely. Hoblitzell will seek the Republican nomination in the primary.

Wilson, 44, is a native of Fairview in Marion County. He became an assistant coach at Fairmont State in 1949 and succeeded Jasper H. Colebank as head coach of all sports in 1940. He held that post until assuming his athletic director duties, again succeeding Colebank, in 1952.

Wilson has been the only president of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Coaches Assn. since it was formed 10 years ago.
